Torbett, 2015-07-13 Excerpt from Sinners A Novelization of Owen Davis s Play It did not need the dark circles around Hilda s somber eyes to put Polly wise as she would have expressed it to the fact that her friend was in one of her black moods They came and went at irregular intervals without warning and apparently without reason But shrewd little Polly had long ago figured out that in some way they were always connected with thought of a certain little town way up in New Hampshire which Hilda had once called home As she had reason to know that Hilda never received any letters except from some of their men friends and the regular crop of first of the month bills it did not need the gifts of a prophet or the daughter of a prophet to figure out that these fits of depression were the result of some chance encounter on the street or in some shop or restaurant with someone who had known her in her girlhood Somebody ought to tell those yaps to stay on the farm where they belong instead of gadding all the time to the city and blowing in the money they make by their honest toil About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Sinner's Friend John Vine Hall,1843
