

Task 1b

Hello Adam!

I understand that you are frustrated, and I am going to answer you clearly as possible. The English language is the world's most used language and therefore extremely essential to learn. We can see English as the "surviving tool", without English it would be incredibly difficult to communicate with people from all over the world. English is a language everyone needs considering that everything is in English these days. A fun fact, there are now more non-native English speakers (2 billion) than native- English speakers!

Several workplaces in Norway demands their employees to have a good language skill particularly in English. It is important to have a good communication skill with everyone so you can understand one and other. In Norway the amount of multilingual working places is increasing by the time due to people migrating from other nations to work. A study has proven that lack of English skills can ruin the negotiations between a customer and the worker (Helleskjær, G.O (2007)).

To conclude, English is one of the most useful subjects you will have during your education. In a world where English speakers are increasing you will eventually have to use English. In today's society it is important to have at least a basic English skill to communicate with people who do not speak your native language. After all English is the most used lingua franca in the world and will be.

I hope this helped you Adam!
