The Evolution Of Desire Revised By David M Buss:

The Evolution of Desire David M. Buss, 2016-12-27 A drop dead shocker Washington Post Book World that uses evolutionary psychology to explain human mating and the mysteries of love If we all want love why is there so much conflict in our most cherished relationships To answer this question we must look into our evolutionary past argues prominent psychologist David M Buss Based one of the largest studies of human mating ever undertaken encompassing more than 10 000 people of all ages from thirty seven cultures worldwide The Evolution of Desire is the first work to present a unified theory of human mating behavior Drawing on a wide range of examples of mating behavior from lovebugs to elephant seals from the Yanomam tribe of Venezuela to online dating apps Buss reveals what women want what men want and why their desires radically differ Love has a central place in human sexual psychology but conflict competition and manipulation also pervade human mating something we must confront in order to control our own mating destiny Updated to reflect the very latest scientific research on human mating this definitive edition of this classic work of evolutionary psychology explains the powerful forces that shape our most intimate desires

The Caveman Mystique Martha McCaughey, 2008 Has evolution made men promiscuous skirt chasers Pop Darwinian claims about men s irrepensible heterosexuality have become increasingly common and increasingly common excuses for men s sexual aggression The Caveman Mystique traces such claims about the hairier sex through evolutionary science and popular culture After outlining the social and historical context of the rise of pop Darwinism s assertions about male sexuality and their appeal to many men Martha McCaughey shows how evolutionary discourse can get lived out as the biological truth of male sexuality Although evolutionary scientists want to use their theories to solve social problems evolutionary narratives get invoked by men looking for a Darwinian defense of bad boy behaviors McCaughey argues that evolution has nearly replaced religion as a moral guide for understanding who we are and what we must overcome to be good people Bringing together insights from the fields of science studies body studies feminist theory and queer theory The Caveman Mystique offers a fresh understanding of science science popularization and the impact of science on men s identities making a convincing case for deconstructing rather than defending the caveman

Creating Consilience Edward Slingerland, Mark Collard, 2012-01-19 Calls for a consilient or vertically integrated approach to the study of human mind and culture have for the most part been received by scholars in the humanities with either indifference or hostility One reason for this is that consilience has often been framed as bringing the study of humanistic issues into line with the study of non human phenomena rather than as something to which humanists and scientists contribute equally The other major reason that consilience has yet to catch on in the humanities is a dearth of compelling examples of the benefits of adopting a consilient approach Creating Consilience is the product of a workshop that brought together internationally renowned scholars from a variety of fields to address both of these issues It includes representative pieces from workshop speakers and participants that examine how adopting such a consilient stance informed by cognitive science and grounded in evolutionary theory would concretely impact specific topics in the humanities examining each topic in a manner that not only cuts across the humanities natural science divide but also across individual humanistic disciplines By taking seriously the fact that science humanities integration is a two way exchange this volume takes a new approach to bridging the cultures of science and the humanities The editors and contributors formulate how to develop a new shared framework of consilience beyond mere interdisciplinarity in a way that both sides can accept
