analysis and detailed commentary on five of Miller's plays: All My Sons, Death of a Salesman, The Crucible, A View from the Bridge, and Broken Glass. A consistent framework of analysis ensures that whether readers want a summary of the play, a commentary on the themes or characters, or a discussion of the work in performance, they can readily find what they need to develop their understanding and aid their appreciation of Miller's artistry. A chronology of Miller's life and work helps to situate his oeuvre in context, and the introduction reinforces this by providing a clear overview of his writing, its recurrent themes, and how these are intertwined with his life and times. For each play, the author provides a summary of the plot, followed by commentary on the context, themes, characters, structure, and language, and the play in production, both on stage and screen adaptations. There are questions for further study and detailed notes on words and phrases in the text. The wealth of authoritative and clear commentary on each play, together with further questions that encourage comparison across Miller's work and related plays by other leading writers, ensures that this is the clearest and fullest guide to Miller's greatest plays.

A View from the Bridge ; All My Sons ,1963 After the Fall Arthur Miller,1980-12-18 Often called the most autobiographical of Arthur Miller's plays, After the Fall probes deeply into the psyche of Quentin, a man who ruthlessly revisits his past to explain the catastrophe that is his life. His journey backward takes him through a troubled upbringing, the bitter death of his mother, and a series of failed relationships. Excerpt: All My Sons is a 1947 play by Arthur Miller. The play was twice adapted for film, in 1948 and again in 1987. The play opened on Broadway at the Coronet Theatre in New York City on January 29, 1947, closed on November 8, 1947, and ran for 328 performances. It was directed by Elia Kazan, to whom it is dedicated, and won the New York Drama Critics Circle Award, beating Eugene O'Neill's The Iceman Cometh. It starred Ed Begley, Beth Miller, Arthur Kennedy, and Karl Malden, and won both the Tony Award for Best Play and the Tony Award for Best Direction of a Play. Arthur Miller wrote All My Sons after his first play, The Man Who Had All the Luck, had been a complete failure on Broadway, lasting only four performances. Miller wrote All My Sons as a final attempt at writing a commercially successful play; if the play failed to find an audience, Miller had vowed to find some other line of work. All My Sons is based upon a true story which Arthur Miller's then-mother-in-law pointed out in an Ohio newspaper. The story described how a woman informed on her father who had sold faulty parts to the
