

DIGITAL IMAGE PROCESSING

Digital image processing deals with manipulation of digital images through a Digital Computer. It is a subfield of signals and systems that focus particularly on images. But the user is developing a computer system that is able to perform processing on an image. The input of that system is a digital image and the system produces that image using different algorithms, and gives an image as an output. The most common software is Adobe Photoshop. It is one of the widely used applications for processing digital images.

How it works.

In the above figure, an image has been captured by a camera and has been sent to a digital system to remove all the other details, and just focus on the main object by removing its background. This way the quality of the image remains the same.
