Mediation, a Necessary Element in Family Dispute Resolution? Heike Stintzing, 1994 Mediation as a method of alternative dispute resolution is gaining increased attention in a growing number of legal areas In Australian law family counselling was developed to deal with issues related to family disputes It is brought in prior to court settlement of disputes and thus integrated into the system of conflict resolution The characteristics and use of alternative dispute resolution call into question the role of the court as the sole forum for institutionalised conflict resolution For this reason the transferability of the concept of mediation into the German legal system needs to be examined In particular it needs to be measured against the yardstick of the German Constitution which by granting basic substantive and procedural rights sets out the demands a modern state of law makes on a method of conflict resolution Dispute Resolution in Australia Hilary Astor, C. M. Chinkin, 2002 The 2nd edition of this book provides an accessible coherent and critical treatment of dispute resolution in Australia and been restructured to take account of the considerable changes in alternative dispute resolution ADR Throughout the book dispute resolution methods are considered in a theoretical critical and evaluative light A range of ADR processes across a spectrum of applications is considered with special attention given to commercial family discrimination and international disputes Insights drawn from domestic and international contexts are combined in a unique way throughout the book While having a predominantly Australian focus appropriate comparisons from other jurisdictions are frequently made The book locates debates surrounding ADR in the context of the politics of gender and other aspects of identity while examining the influences of other contemporary legal theories on ADR It considers ADR in both its social and political contexts This book will be useful to scholars of ADR as well as lawyers policy makers practitioners and students of dispute resolution Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Australia. Parliament. House of Representatives, 2006-02 Dispute Resolution in Asia Michael Pryles, 2002-10-10 Dispute Resolution in Asia was first published in 1998 and was one of the few titles to deal exclusively with the Asian region This second edition is not only an updated version of the first edition but is also an expanded work Chapters on India and Indonesia have been added The first chapter presents an overview of dispute resolution in Asia and examines the question whether there is an Asian style of dispute resolution The remaining chapters focus on twelve particular countries They are important trading countries or countries which are the recipients of substantial foreign investments This second edition fills the need for increased information on dispute resolution in a region whose economic importance is still growing Features The examination of dispute resolution in 12 countries provides a much wider spectrum of Asian laws and approaches than is traditional in comparative studies The work provides a broad coverage in terms of its subject matter The book is not confined to arbitration or litigation but examines arbitration litigation and mediation Contributions vary in style and contents and thus reflect the diversity of legal systems and cultures in Asia Specialists focus on countries with which contributors have particular expertise or experience Statistics provided on arbitration centres in Asia Benefits updated and expanded version of the first edition a substantial coverage of twelve

countries in addition to chapters on Australia People s Republic of China Hong Kong Japan Malaysia The Philippines Singapore Taiwan Thailand and Vietnam chapters on India and Indonesia have been added all the contributors are senior lawyers with vast knowledge and experience of dispute resolution in Asia and are experts in their field country studies are not limited to arbitration or litigation but examines arbitration litigation and mediation

Latest Developments in EU Private International Law Beatriz Campuzano Díaz, Marcin Czepelak, Andrés Rodríguez Benot, María Ángeles Rodríguez Vázquez, 2011 The European Union is committed to achieving the goal of creating a network of instruments that will comprehensively cover almost all the aspects of private international law This will significantly affect the freedom of national legislators to undertake their law making tasks However these two proceedings should not be contrary As this book demonstrates European harmonization is being developed from the feedback of the national experiences The book is the outcome of theoretical and practical research carried out by a group of legal experts from different specialties and jurisdictions It includes several contributions in the fields of the recently adopted instruments of private international law e g mediation in civil and commercial matters maintenance obligations or conflict of law rules on divorce some national experiences when applying these instruments in particular in the new EU Member States and also the ongoing works in order to review some current instruments Brussels I or to approve new ones e g successions or matrimonial property regimes In conclusion the book offers an updated and critical contribution to the huge common task of elaboration of a European private international law adopted by the EU institutions
