Microwave and Millimetre-Wave Design for Wireless

Communications Ian Robertson, Nutapong Somjit, Mitchai Chongcheawchamnan, 2016-06-20 This book describes a full range of contemporary techniques for the design of transmitters and receivers for communications systems operating in the range from 1 through to 300 GHz In this frequency range there is a wide range of technologies that need to be employed with silicon ICs at the core but compared with other electronics systems a much greater use of more specialist devices and components for high performance for example high Q factor low loss and good power efficiency Many text books do of course cover these topics but what makes this book timely is the rapid adoption of millimetre waves frequencies from 30 to 300 GHz for a wide range of consumer applications such as wireless high definition TV 5G Gigabit mobile internet systems and automotive radars It has taken many years to develop low cost technologies for suitable transmitters and receivers so previously these frequencies have been employed only in expensive military and space applications The book will cover these modern technologies with the follow topics covered transmitters and receivers lumped element filters transmission lines and S parameters RF MEMS RFICs and MMICs and many others In addition the book includes extensive line diagrams to illustrate circuit diagrams and block diagrams of systems including diagrams and photographs showing how circuits are implemented practically Furthermore case studies are also included to explain the salient features of a range of important wireless communications systems The book is accompanied with suitable design examples and exercises based on the Advanced Design System the industry leading CAD tool for wireless design More importantly the authors have been working with Keysight Technologies on a learning teaching initiative which is designed to promote access to industry standard EDA tools such as ADS Through its University Educational Support Program Keysight offers students the opportunity to request a student license backed up with extensive classroom materials and support resources This culminates with students having the chance to demonstrate their RF MW design and measurement expertise through the Keysight RF Microwave Industry Ready Student Certification Program www.keysight.com find eesof university www.keysight.com find eesof student certification
