Prophets of the Posthuman Christina Bieber Lake, 2013-09-30 Prophets of the Posthuman provides a fresh and original reading of fictional narratives that raise the question of what it means to be human in the face of rapidly developing bioenhancement technologies Christina Bieber Lake argues that works by Nathaniel Hawthorne Walker Percy Flannery O Connor Toni Morrison George Saunders Marilynne Robinson Raymond Carver James Tiptree Jr and Margaret Atwood must be reevaluated in light of their contributions to larger ethical questions Drawing on a wide range of sources in philosophical and theological ethics Lake claims that these writers share a commitment to maintaining a category of personhood more meaningful than that allowed by utilitarian ethics Prophets of the Posthuman insists that because technology can never ask whether we should do something that we have the power to do literature must step into that role Each of the chapters of this interdisciplinary study sets up a typical ethical scenario regarding human enhancement technology and then illustrates how a work of fiction uniquely speaks to that scenario exposing a realm of human motivations that might otherwise be overlooked or simplified Through the vision of the writers she discusses Lake uncovers a deep critique of the ascendancy of personal autonomy as America's most cherished value This ascendancy coupled with technology's glamorous promises of happiness helps to shape a utilitarian view of persons that makes responsible ethical behavior toward one another almost impossible Prophets of the Posthuman charts the essential role that literature must play in the continuing conversation of what it means to be human in a posthuman world

300 volumes to date authoritative editions that average 1 000 pages in length feature cloth covers sewn bindings and ribbon markers and are printed on premium acid free paper that will last for centuries George Saunders Philip Coleman, Steve Gronert Ellerhoff, 2017-03-25 This timely volume explores the signal contribution George Saunders has made to the development of the short story form in books ranging from CivilWarLand in Bad Decline 1996 to Tenth of December 2013 The book brings together a team of scholars from around the world to explore topics ranging from Saunders s treatment of work and religion to biopolitics and the limits of the short story form It also includes an interview with Saunders specially conducted for the volume and a preliminary bibliography of his published works and critical responses to an expanding and always exciting creative oeuvre Coinciding with the release of the Saunders first novel Lincoln in the Bardo 2017 George Saunders Critical Essays is the first book length consideration of a major contemporary author s work It is essential reading for anyone interested in twenty first century fiction Men as Creators and Subjects Across Disciplines and Cultures Debra D. Andrist, 2025-11-05 Admittedly since history has favored or at least highlighted male participation in nearly every culture and discipline i e 1 the systematic inclusion of all sorts of works by men in the canons as well as of 2 amplified information about the historical efforts by men in the arts life in general in addition to 3 how men have been characterized in socio cultural artistic fields this volume s emphasis may seem unnecessary and or repetitive However these emphases changed fairly dramatically by the mid Twentieth Century when womyns works and attention to the same began to be included systematically pretty much across the board if slowly and very selectively Yet the nearly total absence and or misrepresentation of those three aspects associated details for centuries emphasize the need for continued focus and cross foci on both genders especially comparatively if from one gender or the other s perspective The Recovering Leslie Jamison, 2018-04-03 From the New York Times bestselling author of The Empathy Exams comes this transformative work showing that sometimes the recovery is more gripping than the addiction With its deeply personal and seamless blend of memoir cultural history literary criticism and reportage The Recovering turns our understanding of the traditional addiction narrative on its head demonstrating that the story of recovery can be every bit as electrifying as the train wreck itself Leslie Jamison deftly excavates the stories we tell about addiction both her own and others and examines what we want these stories to do and what happens when they fail us All the while she offers a fascinating look at the larger history of the recovery movement and at the complicated bearing that race and class have on our understanding of who is criminal and who is ill At the heart of the book is Jamison s ongoing conversation with literary and artistic geniuses whose lives and works were shaped by alcoholism and substance dependence including John Berryman Jean Rhys Billie Holiday Raymond Carver Denis Johnson and David Foster Wallace as well as brilliant lesser known figures such as George Cain lost to obscurity but newly illuminated here Through its unvarnished relation of Jamison s own ordeals The Recovering also becomes a book about a different kind of dependency the way our desires can make us all as she puts it broken spigots of need It s about the particular loneliness of the human experience the craving for love that both devours us and shapes who we are For her striking language and piercing observations Jamison has been compared to such iconic writers as Joan Didion and Susan Sontag yet her utterly singular voice also offers something new With enormous empathy and wisdom Jamison has given us nothing less than the story of addiction and recovery in America writ large a definitive and revelatory account that will resonate for years to come

Leading with the Chin Brad Congdon, 2018-11-23 Leading with the Chin focuses on the Esquire writings of James Baldwin Truman Capote Raymond Carver Don DeLillo Norman Mailer and Tim O'Brien to examine how these authors negotiated important shifts in American masculinity Using the works of these six authors as case studies Leading with the Chin argues that Esquire permitted writers to confront national fantasies of American masculinity as they were impacted by the rise of neoliberalism civil rights and gay rights and the cultural dominance of the professional managerial class Applying the methodologies of periodical studies and the theoretical concerns of masculinity studies this book recontextualizes the prose and fiction of these authors by analyzing them in the material context of the magazine Relating each author's articulation of masculinity to the advertisements editorials and articles published in each issue Leading with the Chin shows that Esquire reflected and helped to shape the forces that structured American masculinity in the twentieth century
