Subjectivity, Second/foreign Language Pragmatic Use, and Instruction Noriko

Ishihara,2006      Linguistic Anthropology of Education Stanton E.F. Wortham,Betsy Rymes,2003 Over the years linguistic anthropological research has shown how classrooms are socializing institutions and how language functions as one medium through which this socialization is accomplished Early work in the field has captured the immediacy of social practice and language use in educational contexts and has created useful characterizations of variations in communicative competence The present work builds on the strengths of prior work showing how new theoretical concepts and empirical methods developed in linguistic anthropology over the last decade can further illuminate educational settings The authors introduce an updated Linguistic Anthropology of Education which recognizes that in the rapidly changing field of cultural production within which children and teachers operate today the exploration of multiple pre existing forms of communicative competence is not enough This volume elaborates theory and illustrates the tools and practices of the Linguistic Anthropology of Education to account for today s research context in which the multiplicity of identity and the multiple ways language can be used to represent it have important ramifications for how learning and social reproduction emerge within educational contexts      Applied Linguistics ,1980      Acta Societatis Linguisticae Europaeae ,2006      International Journal of Dravidian Linguistics ,2016      The Content-based Classroom Marguerite Ann Snow,Donna Brinton,1997 Shows how to apply the tenets of a content based approach to language instruction Explores practical models for teacher preparation classrooms strategies and alternative models research and assessment and the relationship between content based instruction and other instructional approaches
