Designing For The Homeless Architecture That Works:

Designing for the Homeless Sam Davis, 2004-11-29 An eye opener The subject of homelessness has often been discussed but no one before has cut such a broad swath through the subject There is no other book that deals with the architecture of homelessness Robert Gutman author of Architectural Practice A Critical View Davis lays out a compelling case for us all especially designers to get involved in solutions for the problem of homelessness He discusses the plight of the homeless in terms that make them real and his chapter on the costs of homelessness lays out the argument for involvement in very practical terms Michael Underhill Professor School of Architecture at Arizona State University Homelessness and the Built Environment Jill Pable, Yelena McLane, Lauren Trujillo, 2021-07-08 Winner of the 2020 IDEC award Homelessness and the Built Environment provides a practical introduction to the effective physical design of homes and other facilities that assist unhoused persons in countries identified as middle to high income It considers the supportive role that design can play for unhoused persons and other users and argues that the built environment is an equal partner alongside other therapies and programs for ending a person's state of homelessness By exploring issues trends and the unique potential of built environments this book moves the needle of what is possible to assist people experiencing trauma Examining important architectural and interior architectural design considerations in detail within emergency shelters transitional shelters permanent supportive housing day centers and multi service complexes such as space planning choices circulation and wayfinding visibility lighting and materials and finishes it provides readers with both curated conclusions from empirical knowledge and experienced designers perspectives Homelessness and the Built Environment is an imperative and singular reference for interior designers architects and building renovation sponsors design researchers and students forging new discoveries and policy makers who seek to assist communities affected by homelessness Race, Poverty, and Social Justice José Z. Calderón, 2023-07-03 This volume explores multiple examples of how to connect classrooms to communities through service learning and participatory research to teach issues of social justice The various chapters provide examples of how collaborations between students faculty and community partners are creating models of democratic spaces on campus and off campus where the students are teachers and the teachers are students The purpose of this volume is to provide examples of how service learning can be integrated into courses addressing social justice issues At the same time it is about demonstrating the power of service learning in advancing a course content that is community based and socially engaged To stimulate the adaptation of the approaches described in these books each volume includes an Activity Methodology table that summarizes key elements of each example such as class size pedagogy and other disciplinary applications Click here for the table to this title Interior Design Katherine S. Ankerson, Jill Pable, 2008-02-04 Interior Design Practical Strategies for Teaching and Learning provides a pedagogical approach specifically geared to instruction in interior design Combining theory with practical application and examples unique to the interior design discipline the unifying theme of the book is achieving excellence in design education For first time teachers whose formal training as educators is more limited than their expertise in the discipline of interior design this text serves as a primary specialized resource For both new and seasoned teachers it is a handy just in time reference for those sticky situations when one needs a fresh perspective in teaching an idea in a new way The text is enriched by case studies grading rubrics and student critiques definitions of educational jargon tables and graphs photos of teaching related activities and spaces and a bibliography for further information on teaching and learning topics
