Reporting is a universal knowledge base required from all students intending to become economic actors. Whether they will use accounting and financial information as internal managers or executives or as external users, investors, credit analysts, etc., they will need to interpret accounting data. Rather than providing a regulatory solution to a reporting or measurement issue, Corporate Financial Reporting examines the economic logic of the problem and identifies generic possible solutions and shows the impact each might have on a company's or decision maker's decisions. Rather than adopting a national approach to accounting issues, Corporate Financial Reporting offers an international perspective, guiding students through IAS, US GAAP, and different local standards where they provide an interesting and relevant lesson.
