1. The first step in the accounting process is to identify the transactions that affect the business. This is done by recording the transactions in the journal. The journal is a record of all the business transactions in chronological order. The journal is then used to prepare the ledger accounts. The ledger accounts are used to prepare the financial statements. The financial statements are used to provide information to the management and the external stakeholders. The financial statements are the balance sheet, the income statement, and the cash flow statement. The balance sheet shows the assets, liabilities, and equity of the business at a specific point in time. The income statement shows the revenues, expenses, and net income of the business over a period of time. The cash flow statement shows the cash inflows and outflows of the business over a period of time. The financial statements are used to make decisions about the business and to provide information to the external stakeholders.

EBOOK: Financial Accounting (GE), 8e Robert Libby, Frank Hodge, Patricia Libby, 2016-04-16 EBOOK Financial Accounting GE 8e     Study Guide for Use with Financial Accounting Robert Libby, Patricia A. Libby, Daniel G. Short, 2003 Libby Libby Short wrote this text based on their belief that the subject of financial accounting is inherently interesting but financial accounting textbooks are often not. They believe most financial accounting textbooks fail to demonstrate that accounting is an exciting field of study and one that is important to future careers in business. When writing this text they considered career relevance as their guide when selecting material and the need to engage the student as their guide to style pedagogy and design. Libby Libby Short is the only financial accounting text to successfully implement a real world single focus company approach in every chapter. Students and instructors have responded very favorably to the use of focus companies and the real world financial statements. The companies chosen are engaging and the decision making focus shows the relevance of financial accounting regardless of whether or not the student has chosen to major in accounting.
