Image Analysis and Recognition Mohamed Kamel, Aurélio Campilho, 2005-10-10 ICIAR 2005 the International Conference on Image Analysis and Recognition was the second ICIAR conference and was held in Toronto Canada ICIAR is organized annually and alternates between Europe and North America ICIAR 2004 was held in Porto Portugal The idea of offering these conferences came as a result of discussion between researchers in Portugal and Canada to encourage collaboration and exchange mainly between these two countries but also with the open participation of other countries addressing recent advances in theory methodology and applications The response to the call for papers for ICIAR 2005 was encouraging From 295 full papers submitted 153 were finally accepted 80 oral presentations and 73 posters The review process was carried out by the Program Committee members and other reviewers all are experts in various image analysis and recognition areas Each paper was reviewed by at least two reviewers and also checked by the conference co chairs The high quality of the papers in these proceedings is attributed first to the authors and second to the quality of the reviews provided by the experts We would like to thank the authors for responding to our call and we wholeheartedly thank the reviewers for their excellent work and for their timely response It is this collective effort that resulted in the strong conference program and high quality proceedings in your hands

The Rise of the Image, the Fall of the Word Mitchell Stephens, 1998-10-08 For decades educators and cultural critics have deplored the corrosive effects of electronic media on the national consciousness The average American reads less often writes less well And numbed by the frenetic image bombardment of music videos commercials and sound bites we may also it is argued think less profoundly But wait Is it just possible that some good might arise from the ashes of the printed word Most emphatically yes argues Mitchell Stephens who asserts that the moving image is likely to make our thoughts not more feeble but more robust Through a fascinating overview of previous communications revolutions Stephens demonstrates that the charges that have been leveled against television have been faced by most new media including writing and print Centuries elapsed before most of these new forms of communication would be used to produce works of art and intellect of sufficient stature to overcome this inevitable mistrust and nostalgia Using examples taken from the history of photography and film as well as MTV experimental films and Pepsi commercials the author considers the kinds of work that might unleash in time the full power of moving images And he argues that these works an emerging computer edited and distributed new video have the potential to inspire transformations in thought on a level with those inspired by the products of writing and print Stephens sees in video's complexities simultaneities and juxtapositions new ways of understanding and perhaps even surmounting the tumult and confusions of contemporary life Sure to spark lively even heated debate The Rise of the Image the Fall of the Word belongs in the library of millennium watchers everywhere
