assign catastrophic events to the incomprehensible or the domain of utter fantasy do we convey the reality of these events What rhetorical strategies are at our disposal when we no longer have an immediate relationship to them When the last survivors of these catastrophic events are gone how will we relate to representations of these events What rhetorical strategies will prove most useful in conveying the historical significance of these events even when the physical traces are gone This book addresses these questions The Search for "reality" Michael Tobias,1998 This ambitious book from author producer and director Michael Tobias draws together the voices of 40 renowned documentary filmmakers from around the world These contributors shed unique light on contemporary culture and aesthetics the filmmaker s commitment to the documentary form and the documentary production process from concept to marketplace They also probe provocative questions What is reality in a documentary Can and should there be objectivity in a documentary What is the role of social advocacy in a documentary How do new production technologies affect a documentary s message This is the first book that brings together an international roster of documentary filmmakers to speak about the very heart and soul of their art It should prove to be an invaluable guide for both professionals and students and will appeal to general filmgoers as well
