Biometry Sokal And Rohlf:

Biometry Robert R. Sokal, F. James Rohlf, 1995 Offers students with little background in statistical analysis an introduction to a variety of statistical concepts and methods In addition to the incorporation of computer calculation this new edition expands on a number of important topics including the revised Kolmogorov Smirnov test Biometry, 1981 Key to Oceanographic Records Documentation, 1976 Computer Programs in Marine Science, 1970 Quality Management and Managerialism in Healthcare Matthias Beck, Sara Melo, 2014-11-04 Quality Management and Managerialism in Healthcare creates a comprehensive and systematic international survey of various perspectives on healthcare quality management together with some of their most pertinent critiques It reviews the factors which have underpinned the managerialist trajectory of healthcare management over the past decades Biostatistics Brian Williams, 2017-07-28 This book is a first course in statistics for students of biology Most of the examples have an ecological bias but illustrate principles which have direct relevance for biologists doing laboratory work The structured approach begins with basic concepts and progresses towards an appreciation of the needs and use of analysis of variance and regression and includes the use of computer statistical packages The work is clearly explained with worked examples of real life biological problems and should be suitable for undergraduate students engaged in quantitative biological work Biostatistics should give students a sound grasp of the key principles of biological statistics without overwhelming detail and should allow students to quickly apply techniques to their own work and data Plant Taxonomy Tod F. Stuessy, 2009 The field of plant taxonomy has transformed rapidly over the past fifteen years especially with regard to improvements in cladistic analysis and the use of new molecular data The second edition of this popular resource reflects these far reaching and dramatic developments with more than 3 000 new references and many new figures Synthesizing current research and trends Plant Taxonomy now provides the most up to date overview in relation to monographic biodiversity and evolutionary studies and continues to be an essential resource for students and scholars This text is divided into two parts Part 1 explains the principles of taxonomy including the importance of systematics characters concepts of categories and different approaches to biological classification Part 2 outlines the different types of data used in plant taxonomic studies with suggestions on their efficacy and modes of presentation and evaluation This section also lists the equipment and financial resources required for gathering each type of data References throughout the book illuminate the historical development of taxonomic terminology and philosophy while citations offer further study Plant Taxonomy is also a personal story of what it means to be a practicing taxonomist and to view these activities within a meaningful conceptual framework Tod F Stuessy recalls the progression of his own work and shares his belief that the most creative taxonomy is done by those who have a strong conceptual grasp of their own research

Biomeasurement Dawn May Hawkins, 2005 Biomeasurement offers a refreshing student focused introduction to the use of statistics in the study of the biosciences With an emphasis on why statistical techniques are essential tools for bioscientists the book removes the stigma attached to statistics by providing the means to use and further explore the key techniques in the field independently The book starts by placing the role of data analysis in the context of wider scientific method and introduces the student to the key terms and concepts which are common to all statistical tools It then covers descriptive statistics and inferential statistics explaining how and why each type of technique is used and how each can help interpret data The book goes on to present nine key statistical tests and discuss which test to apply in different situations

Numerical Taxonomy Joseph Felsenstein, 2013-06-29 The NATO Advanced Study Institute on Numerical Taxonomy took place on the 4th 16th of July 1982 at the Kur und Kongresshotel Residenz in Bad Windsheim Federal Republic of Germany This volume is the proceedings of that meeting and contains papers by over two thirds of the participants in the Institute Numerical taxonomy has been attracting increased attention from systematists and evolutionary biologists It is an area which has been marked by debate and conflict sometimes bitter Happily this meeting took place in an atmosphere of GemUtlichkeit though scarcely of unanimity I believe that these papers will show that there is an increased understanding by each taxonomic school of each others positions This augurs a period in which the debates become more concrete and specific Let us hope that they take place in a scientific atmosphere which has occasionally been lacking in the past Since the order of presentation of papers in the meeting was affected by time constraints I have taken the liberty of rearranging them into a more coherent subject ordering The first group of papers taken from the opening and closing days of the meeting debate philosophies of classification The next two sections have papers on congruence clustering and ordination A notable concern of these participants is the comparison and testing of classifications This has been missing from many previous discussions of numerical classification
