Tattoos in American Visual Culture Mindy Fenske, 2007-11-15 Since the rise of the dime museum in the 19th century tattooed bodies have been parading across stages both live and mediated This book takes a close look at images of tattooed bodies in live performance advertising and photography In so doing the book combines the craft of cultural analysis with theories of performance while also generating a largely untold history of the tattooed body on display in the United States Because of this unique combination the book is truly interdisciplinary and appeals to multiple audiences At the same time it sustains a deep theoretical engagement with the central concepts of social and visual agency and the disruption of restrictive social norms In the end this study of the visual argues that the agency of images is located within and not only in opposition to cultural discourses such as gender class and exoticism The Passions of the Human Soul and Their Influence on Society and Civilization... Charles Fourier,1851 Distancing Representations in Transgender Film Lucy J. Miller,2023-02-01 Distancing Representations in Transgender Film explores the representation of transgender identity in several important cinema genres comedies horror films suspense thrillers and dramas In a critique that is both deeply personal and theoretically sophisticated Lucy J Miller examines how these representations are often narratively and visually constructed to prompt emotions of ridicule fear disgust and sympathy from a cisgender audience Created by and for cisgender people these films do not accurately represent transgender people s experiences and the emotions they inspire serve to distance cisgender audience members from the transgender people they encounter in their day to day lives By helping to increase the distance between cisgender and transgender people Miller argues these films make it more difficult for cisgender people to understand the experiences of transgender people and for transgender people to fully participate in public life The book concludes with suggestions for improving transgender representation in film Woman's Art Journal ,2000 The Passions of the Human Soul Charles Fourier,1851 Bread and Wine Samuel R.
