Davies,2012-12-06 We live in exciting times We have over the last few years seen the birth of a new telecommunications service which will fundamentally change the way we live much as the telephone has over the last 100 years The birth of the Internet can be traced back to a conference on computer communications held in 1972 As a result of that conference a working group was set up under the chairmanship of Vint Cerf to propose new protocols to facilitate computer communications In 1974 the working group published the transmission control protocol fCP and the Interworking protocol IP These were rapidly adopted and the number of computers linked using these protocols has almost doubled every year since Thus the Internet was born Another major step happened in 1990 Tim Berners Lee a Scottish nuclear physicist working at CERN created some higher level protocols These still used TCP IP for the networking but defined how computers could communicate multimedia information and be linked together to form a World Wide Web of information A number of computer databases adopted these protocols and things really took off in 1993 when Marc Andreessen at the University of Illinois developed Mosaic the first client software a browser that gave a windows style interface to these databases Chemoinformatics: Theory, Practice, & Products Barry A.
