The Three Cornered World Natsume Soseki:

The Three Cornered World Natsume Soseki, 2022-05-24 The Three Cornered World is the novelistic expression of the contrast between the Western ethical view of reality and the Eastern ethical view by one of Japan's most beloved authors. Natsume Soseki tells of an artist who retreats to a country resort and becomes involved in a series of mysterious encounters with the owner's daughter. Intricately interwoven with the author's reflections on art and nature, conversations with Zen monks and writers of haiku are a plethora of unique Japanese characters offering the reader an exquisite word painting.

Kusamakura Natsume Soseki, 2008-01-29 A stunning new English translation, the first in more than forty years of a major novel by the father of modern Japanese fiction. Natsume Soseki's Kusamakura, meaning grass pillow, follows its nameless young artist narrator on a meandering walking tour of the mountains. At the inn at a hot spring resort, he has a series of mysterious encounters with Nami, the lovely young daughter of the establishment. Nami or beauty is the center of this elegant novel, the still point around which the artist moves and the enigmatic subject of Soseki's word painting. In the author's words, Kusamakura is a haiku style novel that lives through beauty. Written at a time when Japan was opening its doors to the rest of the world, Kusamakura turns inward to the pristine mountain idyll and the taciturn lyricism of its courtship scenes, enshrining the essence of old Japan in a work of enchanting literary nostalgia. Sōseki Natsume, 2011 Interspersed with philosophies of both East and West, The Three Cornered World blends two very different cultures in this unique representation of an artist struggling with his craft and his environment. The Awakening of Modern Japanese Fiction Michihiro Ama, 2021-02-01 The Awakening of Modern Japanese Fiction is the first book to treat the literary practices of certain major modern Japanese writers as Buddhist practices and to read their work as Buddhist literature. Its distinctive contribution is its focus on modern literature and, importantly, modern Buddhism, which Michihiro Ama presents both as existing in continuity with the historical Buddhist tradition and as having unique features of its own. Ama corrects the dominant perception in which the Christian practice of confession has been accepted as the primary informing source of modern Japanese prose literature, arguing instead that the practice has always been a part of Shin Buddhist culture. Focusing on personal fiction, this volume explores the works of literary figures and Buddhist priests who, challenged by the modern development of Japan, turned to Buddhism in a variety of ways and used literature as a vehicle for transforming their sense of selfhood. Writers discussed include Natsume Soseki, Tayama Katai, Shiga Naoya, Kiyozawa Manshi, and Akegarasu Haya. By bringing Buddhism out of the shadows of early twentieth-century Japanese literature and elucidating its presence in both individual authors' lives and the genre of autobiographical fiction, The Awakening of Modern Japanese Fiction demonstrates a more nuanced understanding of the role of Buddhism in the development of Japanese modernity.

Korea and Taiwan Building on recent scholarship on Global Romanticism it develops a reciprocal cross cultural model of scholarship in which Asian Romanticism is recognized as itself an important part of the Romantic literary tradition It explores the connections between canonical British Romantic authors including Austen Blake Byron Shelley and Wordsworth and prominent Asian writers including Natsume S seki Rabindranath Tagore and Xu Zhimo The essays also challenge Eurocentric assumptions about reception and periodization exploring how since the early nineteenth century British Romanticism has been creatively adapted and transformed by Asian writers
