Cornish Intellectual Property:

Intellectual Property William Rodolph Cornish, 1996 Intellectual Property David Llewelyn, Tanya Frances Aplin, 2019 Intellectual Property in the New Millennium William Rodolph Cornish, D. Vaver, Lionel Bently, 2004-10-14

Intellectual property law is a subject of increasing economic importance and the focus of a great deal of legislative activity at an international and regional level. This collection brings together contributions from some of the most distinguished scholars in this exciting and controversial field, covering the full extent of intellectual property laws that is patents, copyright, trade marks, and related rights. The contributions examine some of the most pressing practical and theoretical concerns which intellectual property lawyers face.

Intellectual Property Harmonisation Within ASEAN and APEC Christopher Heath, 2004-01-01

In several major areas of international trade, particularly software and technology transfer, a harmonised regime of intellectual property law is a crucial prerequisite to success. Yet this legal concept appears to be extraordinarily difficult to establish on any agreed-upon basis among countries. And nowhere has the sought-for harmonisation proven more intractable than in the countries of the Asia Pacific region.

Intellectual Property Harmonisation in ASEAN and APEC investigates the complex issues that lie at the root of this major block to the unhampered global flow of commerce based on intangible assets. By highlighting the background of Asian legal systems, both in terms of culture and intellectual property systems, the authors suggest how the current obstacles towards greater harmonisation and integration may be overcome. Defining the accepted principles enshrined in TRIPS, the Paris Convention, and other international agreements, the presentation describes the relatively successful European experience and then goes on to develop strategic variations geared to relate more precisely to harmonisation, integration, and co-operation in the East Asian region.

Among the important elements of the problem and its potential solutions discussed in this book are the following: the strong influence of legal culture in the different Asian countries; the limits of IP harmonisation in Europe; the importance of understanding the political and cultural perceptions that prevail in the various Asian countries; the non-uniform approach of different Asian countries due in part to bilateral free trade agreements; and the experience of patent office cooperation and its potential as a model for smaller countries.

The contributing authors have all worked in the IP field for more than a decade and have followed closely the developments of intellectual property law since the advent of the TRIPS Agreement. Their collective expertise includes both academic and practical considerations on IP harmonisation.

Intellectual Property Harmonisation in ASEAN and APEC will be of great value and interest to policymakers seeking effective enforcement of intellectual property rights to international lawyers counseling clients on Asia, and to academics working in the fields of intellectual property or Asian law.

Intellectual Property William Rodolph Cornish, 2004 Intellectual property rights IPRs are increasingly significant elements of economic policy they are vital to developed countries in an age of global trade Today's astounding new technologies stemming from the digital and biotechnological revolutions are creating new problems William Cornish focusses upon the major dilemmas that currently enmesh the subject the omnipresent spread of IPRs across some recent technologies the distraction caused by rights that achieve little of their intended purpose and the seeming irrelevance of IPRs in the face of new technologies such as the internet What IPRs are good for and what they should achieve depends upon the law which defines them There is great international as well as national pressure for new laws and in Europe the EU is now the dominant force in shaping IP policy Against this background William Cornish surveys current arguments over legal policy in this field How can the the issues raised by advances in human genetics be reconciled with the potential for diagnostic and therapeutic advances and the patenting of molecules genes and even organisms by biotechnology and pharmaceutical companies How can this new field be fairly protected through the existing requirements of patent law and who should be responsible for effecting this result Copyright is the traditional buttress of publishing computer programming and record and film production It now faces a life sapping threat from free and ready access to material via the Internet and other digital resources How can a mixture of legal rights and technological barriers to access give reasonable protection to investment in new intellectual products without becoming an inordinate instrument of control Trade marks are the crux of branding a cornerstone of marketing that often eclipses even the very things being sold How can we reconcile the tension between those intent on legal protection for every element of investment in branding and those concerned to balance freedom to compete against the drive for fair trading
