

CROCHET STITCH DICTIONARY

alpine stitch	is a textured crochet stitch that creates a beautifully raised, zigzag-like pattern. It combines rows of double crochet (DC) and front post double crochet (FPDC) to achieve its signature texture. This stitch is ideal for projects like blankets, scarves, and other items that benefit from a bit of extra depth and structure.
arc stitch	is a decorative crochet stitch pattern that creates an elegant, curved, or scalloped effect resembling arcs or waves. It is often used in projects like shawls, borders, blankets, and other items that benefit from a lacy, openwork design.
back loop only	refers to a technique in crochet where you insert your hook into the back loop of a stitch, instead of working under both loops as usual. This creates a unique texture and flexibility in the fabric by leaving the front loop untouched.
back post double	is a crochet stitch technique where the hook is inserted from the back of the fabric and worked around the post (vertical bar) of the stitch in the previous row, rather than into the top loops. This creates a raised, textured effect on the surface of the fabric.
basketweave stitch	is a textured crochet stitch that mimics the look of a woven basket. It is created by alternating front post double crochet (FPDC) and back post double crochet (BPDC) stitches in a set pattern. The result is a fabric with a raised, grid-like texture that is both visually appealing and sturdy.
bean stitch	is a textured crochet stitch that creates a soft, puffy effect, making it perfect for adding depth and dimension to projects. The stitch is formed by pulling up multiple loops in the same stitch and closing them together, resulting in a "bean-like" appearance.
berry stitch	a textured stitch that creates small, raised "berry-like" bumps, adding dimension and visual interest to your projects. The berry stitch is often used in blankets, scarves, hats, and other projects where texture is desired.
