Uncovering the Unconscious Dimensions of Planning Frank Othengrafen,2016-02-17 If planning is understood to be about the nature of place about the way in which we use land and about the physical expression of the ordering of society then it becomes apparent that planning as an activity cannot possibly be divorced from the general cultural traditions that inform it By adopting theoretical approaches from the fields of management studies cultural studies and anthropology and by using culture as an organising principle this book develops an innovative framework which provides better insights into what culture is about what the relations are between culture and planning and how culture influences planning practices It introduces a culturised planning model consisting of the analytical dimensions planning artefacts planning environment and societal environment with which to discover the unconscious routines and assumptions emotions and meanings attached to planning systems and the different concepts used in spatial planning systematically The model offers the possibility of uncovering cultural phenomena in spatial planning by providing relevant cultural dimensions and potential specifications and indicators which has not been the case so far By comparing examples of German Finnish and Greek planning habits the book illustrates cultural influence in planning and provides the readership with a feedback between the micro experiences of planners and the macro level institutional and social context as well as a more systematic comparison based on cultural values attitudes norms and rules      Fulbright Labyrinths Virginia Hall-Milhouse,2011-11 In this provocative work Virginia

Milhouse demonstrates how autoethnography combines creative and analytical practices to help bring to consciousness some complex social and political agendas hidden in narratorial writings. It demonstrates how an arts based qualitative research method narrative inquiry can be fused with a scientific based quantitative method. DMIS, IDI and compliment support and or correct each other. It also demonstrates how writing as a method of inquiry can be a viable way for researchers to learn about themselves and their research as well as features standards for evaluating creatively and analytically constructed text. Further the author's examination of the aesthetics of inner readiness and in betweenness will be very helpful to people doing this kind of self reflexive fieldwork. The reader will also appreciate this author's recognition of the importance of combining qualitative and quantitative methodologies something not many writers can do with great success. Also this book will be a real contribution to sojourners and others traveling or living abroad. The work is very smart and is beautifully and clearly written. The labyrinth quote at the beginning of her work is very fitting and certainly promises to illustrate those words.
