Bloomsbury CPD Library: Stretch and Challenge Debbie Light, Bloomsbury CPD Library, 2017-01-12 In the past schools have labelled the most able students in a class or year group as gifted and talented While segregating these students may help them to achieve their academic potential there is little benefit in this practice for their less able classmates Even less so for those who are left in the middle space identified as neither highly academic nor severely struggling The Stretch and Challenge model focuses on setting high expectations for all students regardless of their ability Encouraging all children to meet universally high targets introduces flexibility between otherwise rigid ability groups and gives children greater opportunities to exceed Split into two parts Stretch and Challenge focuses on different ways of thinking about and implementing this model in school Debbie Light begins by helping teachers to create a culture of high expectations in their classroom by setting challenging learning objectives creating opportunities for students to develop independence and supporting students as they become resilient learners The second half of the book advises teachers how to create an inclusive learning environment where all children feel challenged by encouraging teacher questioning designing tasks grouping students and effectively using teaching assistants Filled with honest experienced and undeniably helpful advice Debbie Light's Stretch and Challenge is a must have guide for all teachers who want to collectively maximise their students learning and achievement The book provides a set of ready to use training plans to help you train your colleagues and is accompanied by PowerPoint slides available to download online for free It offers 19 hours of CPD equating to a cost of just 1 20 per hour of training

What if everything you knew about education was wrong? David Didau, 2015-06-10 If you feel a bit cross at the presumption of some oik daring to suggest everything you know about education might be wrong please take it with a pinch of salt What if everything you knew about education was wrong is just a title Of course you probably think a great many things that aren't wrong The aim of the book is to help you murder your darlings David Didau will question your most deeply held assumptions about teaching and learning expose them to the fiery eye of reason and see if they can still walk in a straight line after the experience It seems reasonable to suggest that only if a theory or approach can withstand the fiercest scrutiny should it be encouraged in classrooms David makes no apologies for this why wouldn't you be sceptical of what you're told and what you think you know As educated professionals we ought to strive to assemble a more accurate informed or at least considered understanding of the world around us Here David shares with you some tools to help you question your assumptions and assist you in picking through what you believe He will stew findings from the shiny white laboratories of cognitive psychology stir in a generous dash of classroom research and serve up a side order of experience and observation Whether you spit it out or lap it up matters not If you come out the other end having vigorously and violently disagreed with him you'll at least have had to think hard about what you believe The book draws on research from the field of cognitive science to expertly analyse some of the unexamined meta-beliefs in education In Part 1 Why we're wrong David dismantles what we think we know examining cognitive traps and biases assumptions gut feelings and the problem of evidence Part 2 delves deeper Through the threshold looking at progress liminality and threshold concepts the science of learning and the difference between novices and experts In Part 3 David asks us the question What could we do differently and offers some considered insights into spacing and interleaving the testing effect the generation effect reducing feedback and why difficult is desirable While Part 4 challenges us to consider What else might we be getting wrong cogitating formative assessment lesson observation grit and growth differentiation praise motivation and creativity

Formative Assessment in Practice
