Principles Of Taxation 2014 Solutions:

The Three Sector Solution John Butcher, David Gilchrist, 2016-07-15 This collection of essays had its origins in a one day workshop held in August 2015 at The Australian National University Jointly convened by Dr John Butcher ANZSOG and Professor David Gilchrist Curtin Not for profit Initiative the purpose of the workshop was to bring together academic researchers policy practitioners and thought leaders to address a variety of emerging issues facing policymakers public sector commissioners not for profit providers of publicly funded services and businesses interested in opportunities for social investment The workshop itself generated a great deal of interest and a baker s dozen of contributors challenged and engaged a full house The level of enthusiasm shown by the audience for the subject matter was such that the decision to curate the presentations in the form of a book was never in doubt The editors trust that this volume will vindicate that decision At one time the state exercised a near monopoly in the delivery of social programs Today almost every important public problem is a three sector problem and yet we have little idea of what a high performing three sector production system looks like It is the editors hope that this volume will provide a foundation for some answers to these important public policy questions results of her research on the impact of introducing the FTT on derivatives trading in the financial market in Italy and her concept of taxing financial transactions The book may become a recommended reading for scholars and researchers of taxes and financial markets the history of economic thought and the problems of the functioning of the EU and will also find an audience among employees of financial and tax departments tax administration staff practitioners in the finance industry as well as politicians and governing authorities interested in implementing the FTT

Philosophical Foundations of Tax Law Monica Bhandari, 2017-02-23 Tax law changes at a startling rate not only does societal change bring with it demands for change in the tax system but changes in the political climate will force change as will many other competing pressures With this pace of change it is easy to focus on the practical and forget the core underpinnings of the tax system and their philosophical justifications Taking a pause to remind ourselves of those principles and how they can operate in the modern tax system is crucial to ensuring that the tax system does not diverge too far from what it should be or could be It is essential to understand the answers to some of the seemingly basic questions that surround tax before we can even begin to think about what a tax system should look like This collection brings together major themes and difficult questions in the philosophical foundations of tax law The chapters consider practical issues such as justification enforcement design and mechanics and provide a full and coherent analysis of the basis for tax law Philosophical Foundations of Tax Law allows the reader to consider how tax systems should move forward in the modern world with a sound philosophical basis to provide the practical tax system that the state requires and citizens deserve

Taxation of the Digital Economy Gillian Neki, 2020-03-16 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2019 in the subject Law Tax Fiscal Law grade A University of Nairobi School of Law course Dissertation language English abstract This dissertation explores the concept of the digital economy its rapid growth and the tax challenges it has introduced both locally and internationally It examines the general characteristic of a sovereign state and its inherent right to tax source on income generated within its jurisdiction The dissertation attempts to investigate the taxability of the digital economy where business is conducted without the requirement of a physical presence a pre requisite for tax administration How can states and especially Kenya detect permanent establishment for purposes of tax administration for an economy that is heavily reliant on intangible assets and a business model based on data network effects and user generated content It therefore focuses and looks at the scope of Kenya s legislative and policy frameworks and its effectiveness in taxing the digital economy Digital businesses and especially multinational digital enterprises have been able to take advantage of the tax laws and policies that were written for an industrial age and are ill suited for today s digital economy The Action Plan on Base Erosion and Profit Shifting by the Organization for Economic Co operation and Development set out to answer the fundamental issues of BEPS aggressive tax avoidance planning strategies but it in itself fell short of expectations as it was not able to recommend practical implementable solutions that would close the gaps that exist in the digital economy tax administration. The findings revealed that BEPS is not a single problem faced by all states but states face different BEPS problems and evaluate them from their own state centred perspectives. Hence the development of many interim measures by different states to tax the digital economy as the international community is still trying to come to a consensus on the possible practical solutions. The current Kenyan tax framework on taxation of the digital economy is obscure as only recent Bills tabled in Parliament try and address the issue in depth. In light of the findings of this research it was established that the problem is not so heavy on laws and regulation on taxation of goods sold electronically but rather implementation of the applicable laws where they exist. The paper finally recommends possible amendments to the Kenyan legal framework and the proposed amendments are assessed by means of comparison with what has taken place in other jurisdictions.

Other Income under Tax Treaties Alexander Bosman, 2015-09-23. Bilateral tax treaties are often to a greater or lesser extent based on the OECD Model Convention. Among the distributive rules with respect to taxation of income which are laid down in Chapter III of that model Article 21 assigns the tax jurisdiction in respect of other income understood to mean items of income which are not dealt with in other provisions of the tax treaty to the residence state in accordance with the main rule underlying the OECD Model thus ensuring that no income falls outside the scope of the treaty. This study provides a comprehensive analysis of Article 21 of the OECD Model in extensive detail and with reference to case law from a number of jurisdictions and to statements of various authorities and official documents the author shows how Article 21 operates in relation to the other distributive rules of the OECD Model and bilateral tax treaties based thereon. The analysis considers such items of income as the following in relation to Article 21: income from immovable property, business profits, profits from shipping inland waterways transport and air transport, dividends, interest and royalties, capital gains and income from employment. In addition the author examines the significance of the OECD Commentaries for the interpretation of tax treaties, the other income article in other model conventions and notable deviations from Article 21 among bilateral tax treaties. An appendix offers well grounded recommendations on how to potentially amend the wording of Article 21 and the related commentary and how the application of the article can be improved. Although underexposed in the tax law literature heretofore the other income article raises important international taxation issues that remain problematic or unresolved. Tax lawyers, government officials and other interested professionals will find here a penetrating analysis that goes a long way towards clarifying the characterisation of income that resists the standard categories defined in tax treaties.
