Trusteeship involves onerous obligations, where a donor retains no responsibility for the property once the gift has been made. Difficulty has been found in providing a comprehensive definition of a trust but various authors have made attempts to define the term trust.

A trust is a relationship which subsists when a person called the trustee is compelled by a court of Equity to hold property, whether real or personal, and whether by legal or equitable title for the benefit of some persons, of whom the trustee himself may be one and who are called cestui que trust or beneficiaries, or for some object permitted by law; in such a way that the real benefit of the property accrues not to the trustee, as such, but to the beneficiaries or other objects of the trust.

- (a) the assets constitute a separate fund and are not part of the trustee's own estate;
- (b) title to the trust assets stands in the name of the trustee or in the name of another person on behalf of the trustee;
- (c) The trustee has the power and duty, in respect of which he is accountable, to manage, employ or dispose of the assets in accordance with the terms of the trust and the special duties imposed upon him by law.

A trust can be distinguished from other legal concepts such as bailment, agency, contract, debts, conditions and charges, powers.
