The Syrian Conflict in the News Gabriel Huland, 2024-02-22 The Syrian conflict constitutes one of the most covered events in this century Although the coverage of the Syrian uprising and civil war alternated between periods of saturation and silence it is indisputable that they received an enormous amount of media attention The Syrian Conflict in the News analyses the coverage of the Syrian conflict in the New York Times the Washington Post and the Wall Street Journal focusing on how the three newspapers framed six key events in Syria from March 2011 to April 2018 including the Ghouta chemical attack the Russian intervention in Syria and US led airstrikes Gabriel Huland argues that US foreign policy dominates the frames of the conflict which suggests that mainstream newspapers are excessively indexed to elite narratives In the United States the Syrian crisis prompted an intense debate about the appropriate degree of US involvement in the civil war and how the country should behave in the face of growing Russian and Iranian influence in the Middle East The overreliance on elite narratives resulted in the underrepresentation of local voices and other players who were in a more advantaged position to devise solutions to the conflict By analysing the frames of the Syrian uprising and civil war in three mainstream newspapers and the relationship between media and international conflicts The Syrian Conflict in the News sheds light on crucial aspects of the crisis currently pervading US journalism abstract The aim of the present scientific work is to answer the following key question How can the frames of German news reporting on the events of New Year s Eve in Cologne be assessed using the example of the S ddeutsche Zeitung and the Westdeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung how do the frames develop in the respective medium how do they differ the media frames of the daily newspapers from each other and what effects do they achieve on the recipient level Since frames have great methodological potential but are also very controversial I will first define the framing tradition and the frame concept in the theoretical part of this final thesis For this I will primarily use selected literature from Minsky Konerding Entman and Scheufele After that I will show different types of frames and discuss their possible effects on the recipient level With the help of this theoretical basis I can then use the frame concept as an analytical approach Three copies each of the S ddeutsche Zeitung and the Westdeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung are used as research instruments Finally in a last step I will make a final assessment of the analysis results including the outlook
