From Object-Oriented to Formal Methods Olaf Owe, Stein Krogh, Tom Lyche, 2004-03-09 After Ole Johan's retirement at the beginning of the new millennium some of us had thought and talked about making a Festschrift in his honor When Donald Knuth took the initiative by sending us the first contribution the process began to roll In early 2002 an editing group was formed including Kristen Nygaard who had known Ole Johan since their student days and with whom he had developed the Simula language Then we invited a number of prominent researchers familiar with Ole Johan to submit contributions for a book honoring Ole Johan on the occasion of his 70th birthday Invitees included several members of the IFIP 2.3 working group a forum that Ole Johan treasured and enjoyed participating in throughout his career In spite of the short deadline the response to the invitations was overwhelmingly positive The original idea was to complete the book rather quickly to make it a gift he could read and enjoy because by then he had had cancer for three years and his health was gradually deteriorating Kristen had been regularly visiting Ole Johan who was in the hospital at that time and they were working on their Turing award speech Ole Johan was gratified to hear about the contributions to this book but modestly expressed the feeling that there was no special need to undertake a book project on his behalf Peacefully accepting his destiny Ole Johan died on June 29 2002 Formal Methods for Software Architectures Marco Bernardo, 2003-09-12 In the past ten years or so software architecture has emerged as a central notion in the development of complex software systems Software architecture is now accepted in the software engineering research and development community as a manageable and meaningful abstraction of the system under development and is applied throughout the software development life cycle from requirements analysis and validation to design and down to code and execution level This book presents the tutorial lectures given by leading authorities at the Third International School on Formal Methods for the Design of Computer Communication and Software Systems SFM 2003 held in Bertinoro Italy in September 2003 The book is ideally suited for advanced courses on software architecture as well as for ongoing education of software engineers using formal methods in their day to day professional work

Software Reuse: Methods, Techniques, and Tools Jan Bosch, Charles Krueger, 2004-06-14 After three decades of research and practice reuse of existing software artefacts remains the most promising approach to decreasing effort for software development and evolution increasing quality of software artefacts and decreasing time to market of software products Over time we have seen impressive improvements in extra organizational reuse e g COTS as well as in intra organizational reuse e g software product families Despite the successes that we as a community have achieved several challenges remain to be addressed The theme for this eighth meeting of the premier international conference on software reuse is the management of software variability for reusable software All reusable software operates in multiple contexts and has to accommodate the differences between these contexts through variation In modern software the number of variation points may range in the thousands with an even larger number of dependencies between these points Topics addressing the theme include the representation design assessment and evolution of software variability The proceedings that you are holding as you read this report on the current state of the art in software reuse Topics covered in the proceedings include software variability testing of reusable software artefacts feature modeling aspect oriented software development composition of components and services model based approaches and several other aspects of software reuse

Information Modelling and Knowledge Bases XVI Yasushi Kiyoki, Y. Kiyoki, Benkt Wangler, Hannu Jaakkola, Hannu Kangassalo, 2005 Modelling of information is necessary in developing information systems Information is acquired from many sources by using various methods and tools It must be recognized conceptualized and conceptually organized efficiently so that users can easily understand and use it Modelling is needed to understand explain organize predict and reason on information It also helps to master the role and functions of components of information systems Modelling can be performed with many different purposes in mind at different levels and by using different notions and different background theories It can be made by emphasizing users conceptual understanding of information on a domain level on an algorithmic level or on representation levels On each level the objects and structures used on them are different and different rules govern the behavior on them Therefore the notions rules theories languages and methods for modelling on different levels are also different It will be useful if we can develop theories and methodologies for modelling to be used in different situations because databases knowledge bases and repositories in knowledge management systems developed on the basis of models and used to technically store information are growing day by day In this publication the interest is focused on modelling of information and one of the central topics is modelling of time Scientific and technical papers of high quality are brought together in this book Fifth IEEE International Symposium on Requirements Engineering ,2001 The proceedings from the August 2001 conference in Toronto feature the text of one keynote speech and the abstracts of three others 28 full papers abstracts for 14 state of the practice talks summaries of three panel sessions abstracts of four research tool demos and fourteen posters Major topics include representing and communicating requirements requirements for product lines organizational issues methods and processes scenarios and requirements negotiation formal methods and tools requirements and design and requirements for critical systems Author index only c Book News Inc SIGSOFT '96 Symposium on the Foundations of Software Engineering,1996 Generative and Component-based Software Engineering ,2001 7th Asia-Pacific Software Engineering Conference ,2000 These papers constitute the proceedings of the Seventh Asia Pacific Software Engineering Conference APSEC 2000 They address software evolution Internet applications engineering requirements engineering software architectures software agents tools and environments and more Software Reuse ,2004 Fundamental Approaches to Software Engineering ,2002 Advanced Information Systems Engineering ,2005 ACM Transactions on Software Engineering and Methodology ,2005 Engineering Theories of Software Construction Charles Antony Richard Hoare,M.
