Taking a Closer Look
Structuring a Paragraph

An article like this is written to inform. It is not simply to entertain. Here are some paragraphs from the article. To read the full article, go to the website.

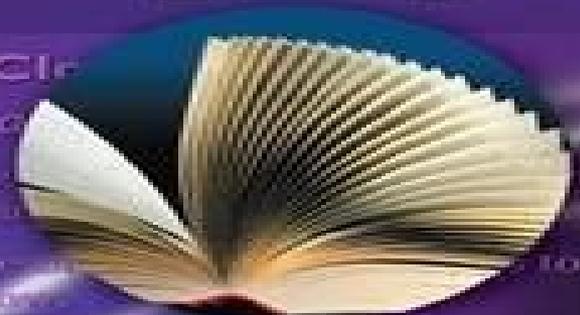

- In paragraph 1, the writer asks a question: What actually happened?

- In paragraph 2, the writer is being stated; followed by an example of a topic sentence – a sentence in which is developed the main idea of the paragraph.

- Paragraph 3 gives the writer's opinion. The writer says that the school should be closed for a week. The writer says that the school should be closed for a week. The writer says that the school should be closed for a week.

- Linking words and phrases are used to link the next paragraph to the first.

Since the school is closed for a week, the children will have to miss a week of school. It also means that the children will have to miss a week of school. It also means that the children will have to miss a week of school.
