Chapter 2
Job-Order Costing for Manufacturing and Service Companies

QUESTIONS

1. Manufacturing costs include all costs associated with the production of goods. Examples of manufacturing costs are: labor costs of workers directly involved with manufacturing goods, cost of all materials directly traced to products, indirect factory labor, indirect materials used in production, depreciation of production equipment, and depreciation of the manufacturing facility.

Nonmanufacturing costs are all costs that are not associated with the production of goods. These typically include selling costs and general and administrative costs.

2. Product costs are assigned to goods produced. Product costs are assigned to inventory and become an expense when inventory is sold. Period costs are not assigned to goods produced. Period costs are identified with accounting periods and are expensed in the period incurred.
3. Two common types of product costing systems are (1) job-order costing systems and (2) process costing systems.

Job-order costing systems are generally used by companies that produce individual products or batches of unique products. Companies that use job-order costing systems include custom home builders, airplane manufacturers, and ship-building companies.
