

Example of Preschool Observation: documentation and analysis

Ana, aged 3-1/2 , was observed in the Cabrillo preschool classroom. There were approximately 20 other children aged 2-1/2 to 5 years and four teachers.

Anecdote, objectively detailed.

Ana brought a book to a table where a small group of children were gathered. "I have a story to share " she said. Ana held the book up for the group to see and then set the book on the table and opened it to the first page. Ana pointed to each illustration and told a story based on what she saw in each picture. She pointed to the text and turned the pages one by one. When she reached the end of the book, she closed it and said "the end." Then, turning to the children she said: "Does anyone have any questions?"

Developmental significance brief analysis:

Psychosocial development:

Demonstrates positive sense of self, showing initiative and awareness of her own skills and accomplishments (PS1, PS2).

Cooperates with her peers, sharing space and materials (PS 12).

Cognitive development:

Remembers and imitates how her teachers present and read books to children (PS29)

Emergent literacy and interest in reading books (PS17, PS19).

Language: Speaks in complete and grammatically correct sentences (PS 15, 16).

Developmental significance longer analysis:

Ana displays significant developmental strengths in the situation observed. She demonstrates a positive sense of self through her initiative and awareness of her own skills and accomplishments (PS1, PS2). Her cognitive development is evident: she remembers and imitates how her teachers present and read books to children (PS29). This is also a remarkable example of her emergent literacy skills and strong interest in reading books (PS17, PS19). When she points to words and pretends to read them she's demonstrating specific knowledge about print and the meaning of symbols (PS 25, PS 26). Her verbal language skills are equally remarkable when she speaks in complete and grammatically correct sentences (PS 15, 16).

She displays age-appropriate social development when she cooperates with her peers, sharing space and materials (PS 12), and demonstrates ability to engage their attention for a long period of time (PS 31). Finally, it is worth noting that she has developed a sense for order and sequence: "beginning" "end" and "conclusion" as demonstrated by her statements.

Assessment in Emergent Literacy Khara L. Pence, 2007. Written to serve as the ideal resource for early literacy professionals at both pre-professional and postgraduate levels, it is also an essential volume for reading specialists, literacy coaches, special educators, speech language pathologists, preschool teachers, kindergarten teachers, and others involved in planning and conducting assessments in programs serving children who have not yet begun formal reading instruction.

Resources in Education, 1993. Rethinking Play as Pedagogy Sophie Alcock, Nicola Stobbs, 2019-03-06. The conceptualisation and practice of play is considered core to early childhood pedagogy. In this essential text, contributors from a range of countries and cultures explore how play might be defined, encouraged, and interpreted in early childhood settings and practice. Rethinking Play as Pedagogy provides a fresh perspective of play as a purposeful pedagogy, offering multi-layered opportunities for learning and development. Written to provoke group discussion and extend thinking opportunities for international comparison, points for reflection, and editorial provocations, this volume will help students engage critically with a variety of understandings of play and diverse approaches to harnessing children's natural propensity to play. Considering the role of the learning environment, the practitioner, the wider community, and policy, chapters are divided into four key sections which reflect major influences on practice and pedagogy: Being alongside children, Those who educate, Embedding families and communities, Working with systems. Offering in-depth discussion of diverse perceptions, potentials, and practicalities of early childhood play, this text will enhance understanding, support self-directed learning, and provoke and transform thinking at both graduate and postgraduate levels, particularly in the field of early childhood education and care for students, educators, integrated service providers, and policy makers. Resources in Education, 1982.
