Bordering on War Shaherzad Ahmadi, 2024-12-03 A study of transnational identity migration and state loyalties told through the social and political history of Iran's Khuzestan province In 1980 Saddam Hussein's Ba'athist forces invaded Khuzestan one of the oldest and richest provinces in Iran triggering the Iran Iraq War Shaherzad Ahmadi's Bordering on War examines the social history of Khuzestan and sheds light on how border dwellers provincial leaders and migrants in the region shaped Iran and Iraq's history before during and after the war Drawing from a rich collection of Persian and Arabic language archival sources rarely used by western scholars due to restrictions in Iran Ahmadi's research focuses on Arab Iranians and argues that Iranian border dwellers and migrants formed local non national loyalties thereby eschewing bureaucratic pressures to confine loyalties to a single nation state The transnational character and ethnically diverse composition of Khuzestan especially in the oil rich towns on the southwestern border led many including Iraq's Ba'ath Party to question the national belonging of Arab Iranians Bordering on War contributes to a wider discussion about the ability of individuals and communities to exert agency through migration trade education and other activities

Alternative Iran
Pamela Karimi, 2022-09-27 Alternative Iran offers a unique contribution to the field of contemporary art investigating how Iranian artists engage with space and site amid the pressures of the art market and the state's regulatory regimes Since the 1980s political economic and intellectual forces have driven Iran's creative class toward increasingly original forms of artmaking not meant for official venues Instead these art forms appear in private homes with trusted audiences derelict buildings leftover urban zones and remote natural sites While many of these venues operate independently others are fully sanctioned by the state Drawing on interviews with over a hundred artists gallerists theater experts musicians and designers Pamela Karimi throws into sharp relief the extraordinary art and performance activities that have received little attention outside Iran Attending to nonconforming curatorial projects independent guerrilla installations escapist practices and tacitly subversive performances Karimi discloses the push and pull between the art community and the authorities and discusses myriad instances of tentative coalition as opposed to outright partnership or uncompromising resistance Illustrated with more than 120 full color images this book provides entry into unique artistic experiences without catering to voyeuristic curiosity around Iran s often perceived underground culture New Histories of Art in the Global Postwar Era Flavia Frigeri, Kristian Handberg, 2021-03-24 This book maps key moments in the history of postwar art from a global perspective The reader is introduced to a new globally oriented approach to art artists museums and movements of the postwar era 1945-70 Specifically this book bridges the gap between historical artistic centers such as Paris and New York and peripheral loci Through case studies previously unknown networks circulations divides and controversies are brought to light From the development of Ethiopian modernism to the showcase of Brazilian modernity this book provides readers with a new set of coordinates and a reassessment of well trodden art historical narratives around modernism This book will be of interest to scholars in art historiography art history exhibition and curatorial studies modern art and globalization The Adventures of Hajji Baba of Ispahan.
