Overview:

The current recommended environmental envelope for IT Equipment is listed in Table 2.1 of the 2004 referenced ASHRAE Datacom book [1]. These recommended conditions as well as the allowable conditions refer to the inlet air entering the datacom equipment. Specifically, it lists for data centers in ASHRAE classes 1 and 2 (refer to the referenced ASHRAE book for details on data center type, altitude, recommended vs allowable, etc.) a recommended environment range of 20 to 25 °C (68 to 77 °F) (dry bulb temperature) and a relative humidity (RH) range of 40 to 55%. (See the allowable and recommended envelopes for class 1 in the psychrometric chart below.)

To provide greater flexibility in facility operations, particularly with the goal of reduced energy consumption in data centers, TC 9.9 has undergone an effort to revisit these recommended Equipment Environmental Specifications, specifically the recommended envelope for classes 1 and 2 (the recommended envelope is the same for both of these environmental classes). The result of this effort, detailed below, is to expand the recommended operating environment envelope. The purpose of the recommended envelope is to give guidance to data center operators on maintaining high reliability and also operating their data centers in the most energy efficient manner. The allowable envelope is where IT manufacturers test their equipment in order to verify that the equipment will function within those environmental boundaries. Typically manufacturers will perform a number of tests prior to announcement of a product to verify that their product meets all the functionality requirements within this environmental envelope. This is not a statement of reliability but one of functionality of the IT equipment. However, the recommended envelope is a statement on reliability. For extended periods of time, the IT manufacturers recommend that data center operators maintain
