Rewriting the North Chloe Ashbridge, 2023-05-15 This book shows how twenty first century writing about Northern England imagines alternative democratic futures for the region and the English nation signalling the growing awareness of England as a distinct and variegated political formation In 2016 the Brexit vote intensified ongoing constitutional tensions throughout the UK which have been developing since the devolution of Scotland Wales and Northern Ireland in 1997 At the same time British devolution developed a distinctively cultural registration as a surrogate for parliamentary representation and an attempt to disrupt the status of London as Britain s cultural epicentre Rewriting the North shifts this debate in a new direction examining Northern literary preoccupation with devolution s constitutional implications Through close readings of six contemporary authors Sunjeev Sahota Sarah Hall Anthony Cartwright Adam Thorpe Fiona Mozley and Sarah Moss this book argues that literary engagement with the North emphasises regional devolution s limited constitutional charge calling instead for an urgent abandonment of the British centralised state form

Domestic Modernism, the Interwar Novel, and E.H. Young Chiara Briganti, Kathy Mezei, 2016-12-05 Domestic Modernism the Interwar Novel and E H Young provides a valuable analytical model for reading a large body of modernist works by women who have suffered not only from a lack of critical attention but from the assumption that experimental modernist techniques are the only expression of the modern In the process of documenting the publication and reception history of E H Young's novels the authors suggest a paradigm for analyzing the situation of women writers during the interwar years Their discussion of Young in the context of both canonical and noncanonical writers challenges the generic label and literary status of the domestic novel as well as facile assumptions about popular and middlebrow fiction canon formation aesthetic value and modernity The authors also make a significant contribution to discussions of the everyday and to the burgeoning field of homeculture as they show that the fictional embodiment and inscription of home by writers such as Young Virginia Woolf Elizabeth Bowen Ivy Compton Burnett Lettice Cooper E M Delafield Stella Gibbons Storm Jameson and E Arnot Robertson epitomize the long standing symbiosis between architecture and literature or more specifically between the house and the novel

The Constitution of English Literature Michael Gardiner, 2013-07-18 In this extended essay Michael Gardiner examines the ideology of the discipline of English Literature in the light of the serious redefining work on England and Englishness that has been conducted in Political Studies in the last decade He argues that English Literature emerges from the development of the state and that consequently it has suppressed the idea of the nation His claim is that English Literature has lost its form since its methodology and canonicity depended so heavily on a constitutional form which can no longer be defended He calls upon those working in English Literature to recognise that they are not really participating in the same discipline defined by the Burkean constitutional settlement even if they think of themselves as writing within the canon His view is that a lack of appreciation of hard edged political factors have led to a continuant and regressive form of English Literature which tends to hang on to stifling methodologies In its place he appeals for the creation of a more open ended inclusive internationalist and comparative literature of England MLA International Bibliography of Books and Articles on the Modern Languages and Literatures ,2008 International Who's Who of Authors and Writers 2008 Europa Publications,2007-08-23 An invaluable source of information on the personalities and organizations of the literary world The Listener and BBC Television Review ,1963 The Times Index ,2007 Indexes the Times and its supplements BBC London Calling ,1981 Before the Raj James Mulholland,2021-04-27 Anglo India s regional literature was both a practical and imaginative response to a pivotal period in the early colonialism of South Asia Awarded as Honorable Mention of the Louis Gottschalk Prize by the American Society for Eighteenth Century Studies ASECS Shortlisted for the Kenshur Prize by the Center for Eighteenth Century Studies Indiana University John Ben Snow Prize by the North American Conference on British Studies Marilyn Gaull Book Award by the Wordsworth Coleridge Association During the later decades of the eighteenth century a rapid influx of English speaking Europeans arrived in India with an interest in expanding the creation and distribution of anglophone literature At the same time a series of military political and economic successes for the British in Asia created the first global crisis to shepherd in an international system of national ideologies In this study of colonial literary production James Mulholland proposes that the East India Company was a central actor in the institutionalization of anglophone literary culture in India The EIC drew its employees from around the British Isles bringing together people with a wide variety of ethnic and national origins Its cultural infrastructure expanded from presses and newspapers to poetry collections letters paper making and selling circulating libraries and amateur theaters Recovering this rich archive of documents and activities Mulholland shows how regional reading and writing reflected the knotty geopolitical situation and the comingling of Anglo and Indian cultures at a moment when the subcontinent s colonial future was not yet clear He shows why Anglo Indian literary publics cohered during this period reexamining the relationship between writing in English and imperial power in a way that moves beyond the easy correspondence of literature as an instrument of empire Tracing regional and translocal links among Madras Calcutta Bombay and settlements surrounding the Bay of Bengal Before the Raj recovers a network of authors reading publics and corporate agents to demonstrate that anglophone literature adapted itself to geographical politics and social circumstances rather than being simply imitative of the works produced in the English metropole Mulholland introduces readers to figures like the Calcutta born Eyles Irwin the first man to sustain a literary career from India We also meet James Romney an army officer who wrote poems and plays including a stage adaptation of Tristram Shandy Alongside these men were anonymous female poets hailed as the harbingers of an anglo asiatic taste and captive adolescent Europeans who caught up in the conflict with southern India s last independent ruler Tipu Sultan were forcibly converted to Islam castrated and made to cross dress as dancing boys for Tipu s entertainment Revealing the vibrant literary culture that existed long before the characters of Rudyard Kipling s best known works Before the Raj reveals how these writers operated within a web of colonial cities and trading outposts that borrowed from one another and produced vital interlinked aesthetics The Spectator ,1926 Listener and BBC Television Review ,1986 Whitaker's Cumulative Book List ,1983 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2001 British Mystery and Thriller Writers Since 1960 Gina Macdonald,2003 Spans much of the modern history of the mystery genre and along with it many of the political and social changes from the classical detective story the World War II spy story and the Cold War thriller to postmodern detective and spy adventures and the politics of terrorism and confrontation of the twenty first century British Paperbacks in Print ,1984 Country Life ,1963
