Wilson, 2014-04-29 Many enquiries into the state of accounting education training undertaken in several countries over the past 40 years have warned that it must change if it is to be made more relevant to students to the accounting profession and to stakeholders in the wider community This book's overriding aim is to provide a comprehensive and authoritative source of reference which defines the domain of accounting education training and which provides a critical overview of the state of this domain including emerging and cutting edge issues as a foundation for facilitating improved accounting education training scholarship and research in order to enhance the educational base of accounting practice The Routledge Companion to Accounting Education highlights the key drivers of change whether in the field of practice on the one hand e.g. increased regulation globalisation risk and complexity or from developments in the academy on the other e.g. pressures to embed technology within the classroom or to meet accreditation criteria on the other Thirty chapters written by leading scholars from around the world are grouped into seven themed sections which focus on different facets of their respective themes including student curriculum pedagogic and assessment considerations

Accounting theories, practices, education and human capital formation trends, 2025-09-15 This book aims to provide empirical and conceptual insights into contemporary accounting theories practices education and approaches adopted to advance human capital formation in the discipline Although new accounting practices have emerged in the modern world conceptual and empirical research that provides a holistic comprehensive understanding of these evolutions and human capital approaches used to promote capabilities formation in accounting remains scarce Contemporary research often focuses on developing a framework for integrating accounting practices while coverage of human capital development is limited Instead research strands on accountancy and human capital are growing separately without a comprehensive empirical and conceptual framework for integrating the two concepts Insights on accounting practices and human capital developments are necessary for building a holistic understanding of the two concepts and working towards adopting an interdisciplinary approach The findings in this book seek to advocate for the need to develop highly skilled generations who may meet the requisite accounting and financial capabilities required in the modern global economy This book adopts both conceptual and empirical methods to address the gap in the literature on the need for research that focuses on human capital formation in the accounting and finance discipline It contributes an interdisciplinary perspective on the intersectionality between accounting practice and the human capital formation of individuals who possess the requisite knowledge
