Lear's story embraces myth and reality war and politics to reveal the violence endemic in all unjust societies He exposes corrupted innocence as the core of social morality and this false morality as a source of the aggressive tension which must ultimately destroy that society In a play in which blindness becomes a dramatic metaphor for insight Bond warns that it is so easy to subordinate justice to power but when this happens power takes on the dynamics and dialectics of aggression and then nothing is really changed Edward Bond: Letters 4 Ian Stuart,2013-12-19 Edward Bond Letters Volume IV focuses on four significant areas of Edward Bond's work education imagination and the child theatre in education At the Inland Sea language and imagery The letters represent a coruscating attack on our present society as well as offering insights into how the situation might be improved Bond's letters attack modern education arguing that children are being educated to sell themselves and suggesting that social problems are caused by an oppression of the imagination Many letters refer directly to a play for instance Tuesday which presents an assessment of the many difficulties faced by contemporary society The language and imagery of one of Bond's most recent plays In the Company of Men is animatedly discussed and Bond reminds us in a final description that the good image is always absent because it is present in the mind Lear [Student Edition].
