The Multilingual Experience in Egypt, from the Ptolemies to the Abbasids Arietta Papaconstantinou, 2016-12-14 For over a millennium and a half Egypt was home to at least two commonly used languages of communication Although this situation is by no means exceptional in the ancient and medieval worlds the wealth of documentary sources preserved by Egypt's papyri makes the country a privileged observation ground for the study of ancient multilingualism One of the greatest contributions of papyri to this subject is that they capture more linguistic registers than other ancient and medieval sources since they range from very private documents not meant by their author to be read by future generations to official documents produced by the administration which are preserved in their original form This collection of essays aims to make this wealth better known as well as to give a diachronic view of multilingual practices in Egypt from the arrival of the Greeks as a political force in the country with Alexander the Great to the beginnings of Abbasid rule when Greek and slowly also Coptic receded from the documentary record The first section of the book gives an overview of the documentary sources for this subject which for ancient history standards are very rich and as yet under exploited The second part contains several case studies from different periods that deal with language use in contexts of varying breadth and scope from its the ritual use in magic or the liturgy to private letters and state administration Islamic Law and the Crisis of the Reconquista Alan Verskin, 2015-01-27 The Reconquista left unprecedentedly large numbers of Muslims living under Christian rule Since Islamic religious and legal institutions had been developed by scholars who lived under Muslim rule and who assumed this condition as a given how Muslims should proceed in the absence of such rule became the subject of extensive intellectual investigation In Islamic Law and the Crisis of the Reconquista Alan Verskin examines the way in which the Iberian school of Muslim law developed in response to the political theological and practical difficulties posed by the Reconquista He shows how religious concepts even those very central to the Islamic religious experience could be rethought and reinterpreted in order to respond to the changing needs of Muslims Het leven van Mohammed Mirza Bashiruddin Mahmud Ahmad, 2018 Dit boek bestaat uit twee delen Het eerste deel bespreekt de biografie van de Heilige Profeet Mohammed en het tweede deel beschrijft zijn karakter Aan het einde van het boek is een index opgenomen en zijn in de voetnoten belangrijke bronnen terug te vinden The Pasha's Bedouin Reuven Aharoni, 2007-03-12 Egypt's history is interwoven with conflicts of Bedouin governments and peasants competing over same cultivated lands and of migrations of nomads from the deserts to the Nile Valley Mehemet Ali's era represented the initial ending of the traditional tribalism and the beginning of emergence of a semi urban community which became an integral part of the sedentarised population Providing a new perspective on tribal life in Egypt under Mehemet Ali Pasha's rule The Pasha's Bedouin examines the social and political aspects of the Bedouin during

1805 1848 By highlighting the complex relationships which developed between the government of the Pasha and the Bedouin Reuven Aharoni sets out to expose the Bedouin as a specialised social sector of the urban economy and as integral to the economic and political life in Egypt at the time This study aims to question of whether the elements of bureaucratic culture which characterised the central and provincial administration of the Pasha indicate special attitudes towards this sector of the population Subjects covered include The Bedouin policy of Mehemet Ali Territory and identity tribal economies Tribe and state relations Tribal leadership With a long experience in fieldwork among Bedouin in the Sinai and the Negev as well as using a range of archival documents and manuscripts both in Arabic and Ottoman Turkish this highly researched book provides an essential read for historians anthropologists and political scientists in the field of social and political history of the Middle East Reuven Aharoni Ph D 2001 in Middle Eastern History Tel Aviv University teaches history of the Middle East at the Haifa University and at the Open University of Israel
