Irrigation Systems Adrian Laycock,2011 Of all the confrontations man has engineered with nature irrigation systems have had the most widespread and far reaching impact on the natural environment Over a quarter of a billion hectares of the planet are irrigated and entire countries depend on irrigation for their survival and existence Considering the importance of irrigation schemes it is unfortunate that until recently the technology and principles of design applied to their construction has hardly changed in 4 000 years Modern thinking on irrigation engineering has benefited from a cross fertilization of ideas from many other fields including social sciences control theory political economics and agriculture However these influences have been largely ignored by irrigation engineers Drawing on almost 40 years of experience of irrigation in the developing world Laycock introduces new ideas on the design of irrigation systems and combines important issues from the disciplines of social conflict management and political thinking
