DISCOVERY OF ELECTRON (DISCHARGE TUBE EXPERIMENT)

William Crookes in 1876 performed series of experiments.

Discovery of electron was done by the cathode ray tube (CRT) or discharge tube. It is a glass tube having two electrodes in it. It may contain air, any gas or vapours of any substance at very low pressure. The electrode are connected to a source of high voltage. The exact voltage required depends upon the length of tube and the pressure inside the tube. By increasing the length voltage also increases. The tube is attached to the vacuum pump by means of small tube so that the conduction of electricity may be studied at any value of low pressure.

It was observed that current did not flow through the gas at ordinary pressure, even at high voltage of 5000 volts. When the pressure inside the tube was reduced and a high voltage of 5000 – 10000 volts was applied, then an electric discharge took place through the gas producing a uniform glow inside the tube. When the pressure was reduced further to about 0.01 torr, the original glow disappeared. Some rays were produced which created fluorescence on the glass wall opposite to the cathode. These rays were called cathode rays. The colour of the glow or the fluorescence produced on the walls of the glass tube, depends upon the composition of glass.

personal account rather than a formal history and describes in refreshing detail his richly diverse experiences Chapter 1 explains how he came to be born in Melbourne although both of his parents as well as his elder sister and younger brother were all born in Northern England his father Professor John Neill Greenwood had just been appointed as the first Professor of Metallurgy in an Australian University The scene is further set by a brief account of the extraordinary events that led up to the founding of the University of Melbourne following the Victorian Gold Rush of the mid nineteenth century and its subsequent development into one of the major Universities of the then British Empire The young family settled in Mont Albert one of the developing eastern suburbs of the expanding metropolis but unfortunately his parents separated soon afterwards and subsequently divorced The children moved with their mother to the neighbouring suburb of Surrey Hills and one of her sisters came out from England to help with the growing family Norman goes on to describe the various schools he attended and has some perceptive comments on his teachers the ethos of the schools and the gradual changes that have occurred in the approach to education in Victoria over the years since the nineteen thirties Initially vacations were spent at a country cottage being built by his father at Kinglake in the densely wooded hills to the north of Melbourne and Norman evokes a childhood view of the exotic plants and animals of the bush the deep secluded tree fern gullies and tumbling mountain streams His father was one of the main protagonists for the development of the Kinglake National Park which he had helped to found Tragically much of the Park was engulfed by the enormous bush fires the worst in Australia s history that wiped out the little township of Kinglake with great loss of life in February 2009 Other holidays were spent on the beaches of Port Phillip Bay or on the cooler slopes of the Dandenong Ranges to the east Norman and his younger brother Eric always known in his youth as Peter or Nipper loved roaming in the Olinda State Forest and Sherwood Forest where the tall mountain ash eucalyptus trees towered above the dense undergrowth of tree ferns and other plants Bush animals abounded as did the raucous cockatoos and multicoloured parrots The great prize however was to sight a lyre bird performing his stately dance and singing his amazing repertoire of all the other birds songs and even the man mad sounds of car horns chain saws and steam engines For the three years 1939 40 41 Norman attended University High School near the city centre and adjacent to the grounds of the University itself It was a remarkable school with an excellent academic reputation but also known for fostering of musical talent and for its prowess in sport Norman joined the School Orchestra as second flute and they gave concerts in the Melbourne Town Hall and occasionally on the State broadcasting station 3LO He also edited the School Magazine The Record perhaps an early portent of his later prolific output of scientific research papers reviews monographs and textbooks In the summer vacation of January 1940 during which Norman had his fifteenth birthday he went on and extended 1300 mile concert party tour of twenty eight country towns in Western Victoria and over the border into South Australia The trip was organised by the Young Australia League YAL and took the form of a White Minstrels Review of thirty boys with songs i Lifting the Scientific Veil Paul Sukys,1999 Lifting the Scientific Veil has been written to afford the nonscience student the same meaningful opportunity to explore germane scientific topics as is generally given the science student to learn about the humanities and social sciences Since nonscientists are generally responsible for making laws financing research or at the very least for voting it is essential that they understand the significant impact that science has on everyday life The book is designed to introduce nonscientists in an informative and comprehensible manner to four of the most significant scientific theories of the twentieth century the big bang quantum physics relativity and evolution After each theory is explained informally the book shows how that theory and related technology impact upon one s personal life Legal and political aspects of these theories are explored as well as philosophical and theological implications Student Study Guide to Accompany Petrucci's General Chemistry Robert K.
