Foss,1996 In the Middle of the Fight David Eugene Johnson,Adam Grissom,Olga Oliker,2008 This monograph presents a qualitative assessment of the performance of medium armored forces in 13 past conflicts that span the range of military operations The accompanying analysis is designed to help inform U S Army decisions about fielding medium armored forces in the future The case histories yielded three major insights First medium armored forces fare poorly against competent heavily armored opponents This finding will prove relevant to the U S Army's medium armored forces if their survivability and lethality do not live up to expectations or cannot be fully realized in battlefield conditions Second doctrinal and organizational steps can in certain circumstances mitigate medium armor's liabilities These steps include the implementation of high quality combined arms tactics down to the lowest echelons the effective application of supporting firepower and training for crews and junior leaders Finally the U S Army has lacked a forced entry armor capability since the retirement of the M551 Sheridan Neither the Stryker vehicle nor the Future Combat Systems as currently envisioned can fill that critical void The authors conclude that it would be prudent for the U S Army to maintain a mix of heavy medium armored and light forces that can be task organized and employed in conditions that best match their attributes Medium armored forces have much to offer in such a mix provided by publisher Armor ,2002 The magazine of mobile warfare The Defence Capabilities of Small States Shang-su Wu,2016-11-24 A comparison of Singapore and Taiwan presents an interesting case study for those wishing to understand how small states struggle to overcome their strategic disadvantage Since their independence Singapore and Taiwan have faced numerous challenges resulting from their relative strategic disadvantage They have struggled to overcome vulnerable bases an unformed conception of state and weak governmental institutes for defence While territorial borders are difficult to change both states have focused on nation building economic growth and military build up in order to overcome their predicaments During the Cold War both states employed similarly authoritarian policies to preserve their survival However in the post Cold War era Taiwan has experienced political and economic weakness in the face of the rising China while Singapore with its polity of one party domination has continued to strengthen its hard and soft power This book examines the unique context for each case drawing comparisons and offering analysis of their distinct approaches Jane's AFV Recognition Handbook Christopher F. Foss,1987 Military Modernisation in Southeast Asia after the Cold War Shang-Su Wu,2024-04-01 Southeast Asian countries represent a wide range of approaches to military modernisation due to
