of Faith Thomas A. Idinopulos, 2005 Discusses two main issues first the origins and the nature of antisemitism in Christendom and the connection between Christian anti Judaism and antisemitism and second the roots and the meaning of the Holocaust including the question of responsibility of the Churches Criticizes the views of Clark Williamson and Rosemary Ruether according to which the conflict between Judaism and Christianity stemmed from a competition between the two sibling religions which they are not in the first centuries Both anti Judaism and antisemitism began in the pagan world Contends that the seeds of antisemitism can be found in the Gospels and in Christian supersessionism the latter is a natural standpoint of every religion However the source of Christian anti Judaism is not doctrinal but socio political Therefore antisemitism cannot be eradicated by alterations in Christian theology theology cannot undo history Believes however that the Churches have to evade blatant anti Jewish passages in their liturgies Notes that Nazi antisemitic ideology included not only racial but also strong religious elements However it was a necessary but not sufficient condition for the Holocaust the traditional German rejection of Jews and the vicissitudes of the war also contributed to the Nazi genocide Calls on theologians to explain the Holocaust theologically contends that God did not die at Auschwitz but He experienced an unprecedented defeat there The Publishers Weekly, 2002 The Reader's Adviser, 1994 The Jewish Year Book 2009

Grey, 2005 A feminist Roman Catholic theologian and a liberal rabbi exchange letters and emails on the major theological fundamentals of their respective faiths such as God Jesus and the Bible alongside contemporary issues such as war and peace gender ecology family sin and racism Their inspiration was a desire to focus on the ways in which their two faiths provide resources for achieving reconciliation in the contemporary world It soon became clear however that they disagreed about nearly everything except the general principle that each tradition contains invaluable spiritual resources for creating a better world The problem was that both held very different visions of what such a world should be But what the conversation finally reveals is the possibility for mutual sympathy and understanding which in a post Holocaust post 9 11 world is perhaps a good enough basis from which to attempt future dialogue and encounter
