INTO THE WILD

In April 1992 a young man from a well-to-do family hitchhiked to Alaska and walked alone into the wilderness north of Mt. McKinley. His name was Christopher Johnson McCandless. He had given $25,000 in savings to charity, abandoned his car and most of his possessions, burned all the cash in his wallet, and invented a new life for himself. Four months later, his decomposed body was found by a moose hunter. . . .

Weaving Words into Worlds Caroline Durand-Rous, Margot Lauwers, 2023-10-10 Weaving Words into Worlds comes as the third spinoff of the international ecopoetics conference organized in Perpignan in 2016 Reflecting upon how the many stories we tell directly influence the world we live in each of the contributions in this international volume directs our attention to the constant ecopoetic weaving of word to the world at work via the many entanglements between mind matter and meaning whether on a local or a global scale It encapsulates how the words stories and concepts we humans articulate as we try to make sense of the world we inhabit give part of its shape to the web of ecological relations that we depend on for survival It seeks to cast light on the disenchanting and reenchanting powers of stories and poesis in general as stories retain the power to make us either become oblivious to and destroy or to feel and honor the many complex ties between the multitudinous nature cultures intertwined within the fabric of a multispecies world always in the making This book offers a total of fourteen articles written by international scholars in ecocriticism and ecopoetics who by their analyses of literature and or films and the political subtext they thus render visible aim at showing how the study of environmentally minded media may renew our attention to the entangled agencies of the human and the more than human realm Thus this work offers to counter a reproach ecocriticism has often been met with namely the over presence of US scholars and the lack of diversity in subjects in the field since the articles presented provide a wide variety of approaches and topics with examples of UK and Native American literature Polynesian myth graphic novels or haiku In doing so the book expands on the fields of ecocriticism and ecopoetics adding to this branch of study and enriching it with high quality academic studies

'Places Of Longing': The Escapist motif in the works of Garland, Sutcliffe and Krakauer Hannes Krehan, 2013-10-02 Master s Thesis from the year 2013 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1 3 <http://www.uni-jena.de/Anglistik/Amerikanistik/language/English/abstract> In today s fleeting globalized world people more than ever seem to feel at odds with themselves They escape wherever and whenever they can from the workplace from the mundane duties of everyday existence from social pressure and expectations from each other Escape from reality is not a new concept for mankind s innate dissatisfaction with existence as Evans calls it is probably almost as old as existence itself In the 21st century however the possibilities of retreat are endless and pervade every aspect of life Digital entertainment has become abundant and ironically almost inescapable while mass media carries the viewer off to exotic places without him even having to leave the house Amidst this virtual world the modern wanderlust has found its place Entire legions of travelers move on to remote places in search of relaxation diversion and the solution to their unfulfilled yearnings for utopian landscapes In his essay The Rationality of Escapism and Self Deception Longeway defines escapism as the attempt to avoid awareness of aversive beliefs He goes on to say that Escapist entertainment s essential purpose is to draw us away from our everyday troubles and sometimes to help us to

fantasize ourselves as better more important and better off than we really are Indulgence in such entertainment helps us avoid temporarily unpleasant truths that we must live with and it is this escape from unpleasant reality that gives us the terms escapist and escapism The notion of escapism evokes a whole chain of terms and concepts directly connected to it repression distraction travel leisure self discovery and of course places imagined or real to whom the individual wishes to escape to In this paper I want to analyze three books on escapism and the various ways in which it presents itself in them My focus will be on Alex Garland s backpacker cult novel The Beach and William Sutcliffe s debunking of the gap year traveler in Are You Experienced as well as Jon Krakauer s non fiction book Into The Wild The first two belong to backpacker fiction a genre that emerged particularly forcefully at the turn of the 21st century The authors of these narratives employ satire in order to debunk the escapism and self fashioning of a demographic of young urban Anglophone travelers who exert traveling mostly as a staged interest for other cultures while in truth they seek self fulfillment and self gratification

Talking to the Shaman Within Manfred F. R. Kets de Vries, 2014-06-16 Everything about hunting leads inexorably to death the challenge for all hunters is how to justify the kill But the hunter s emotional response to the kill is immensely complex Hunters respect and even love the animals they kill Talking to the Shaman Within Musings on Hunting addresses this paradox head on dissecting the emotional and psychological response of the hunter to his quarry and more broadly his surroundings The climax of the chase brings the hunter closer to realizing the nature intelligence that modern civilization has suppressed Through his investigation of the instinct that lies beneath the urge to hunt author Manfred F R Kets de Vries reveals something basic and fundamental about human behavior The hunting instinct is hardwired into the human psyche and for all our sophistication and urbanization it exerts a powerful influence over the way we conduct our lives even to this day Talking to the Shaman Within draws on depictions of hunting in art and literature throughout the ages exploring changing trends in human social norms with frequent reference to literature art film television and music It unites a dispassionate academic hypothesis with an engaging and colourful narrative into which Kets de Vries weaves stories from his own life as both an academic and a hunter
