

Doing Business in the Philippines

The Philippines is the gateway to the vast Southeastern markets of the ASEAN region. Unlike any other Asian country, the Philippines has an excellent location and social systems in the region. In fact, the Netherlands has successful cases and set that South Korea is having the largest investments by advanced foreign direct investments in the Philippines. Many excellent systems to explore the Philippines are greatly improved and resources, a developing infrastructure for regional growth, a significant economic partnership with ASEAN to reach a new

The Philippine economy withstood the recent global economic downturn better than any other ASEAN country. Apart from being heavily affected by international economic, the Philippines enjoys frequent domestic consumption, low dependence on exports and large amounts of remittances flowing into the country from the millions of Filipinos working abroad. With a stable banking system, a well performing stock market, a consistently expanding business consuming industry and record high levels of international reserves, the prospects for the Philippine economy remain positive. Furthermore, the Asian Development Bank (ADB), which offers a broad range of business opportunities in the region is located in Manila. These indicators, in combination with a literacy rate of 98.7% in English, being taught in all schools provides many business opportunities for Dutch entrepreneurs. There is particularly need for the sectors mentioned below.

Priority sectors

Transport & Infrastructure

While challenges remain in the area of public infrastructure, the increased public spending on infrastructure has led to new connecting infrastructures through better roads and more flights.

The next few years will see additional investments from the government and increasing private investments in the Philippine transport sector. The program is also developing other facilities to be an infrastructure gateway to being an emerging region with domestic and international routes. Due to the growing importance of transport and logistics, business opportunities for Dutch companies can be explored for assets and port development, such handling and inland express facilities for sea-food, horticulture and heavy products (e.g. coal storage, mining, port-related storage facilities).

Maritime

The Netherlands and the Philippines have strong and long-standing bilateral political and economic cooperation in the maritime sector. The program is the "crescent capital of the world" and is the primary source of resources for sea Dutch fleet. The country's strategic waterways is a strategic hub for ports, shipping and maritime facilities within the Asia-Pacific region. Given the substantial economic interests involved for the Dutch shipping sector, more and more Dutch shipping companies are seeking to expand their business presence in the Philippines instead of just partnering with local maritime agencies. Similarly, both governments strongly need the need committee on Maritime Affairs (COMA), a high-level bilateral meeting to strengthen maritime cooperation.
