

Reflective Journal Template.

Reflective journal is a requirement of all clinical placements.

This reflective journal will be utilized throughout to demonstrate your engagement in the process of continual learning within the Diploma of Nursing HLT51612 and facilitate critical thinking and nursing enquiry into current nursing practices.

The reflective journal is designed to help understand your own biases, or particular way of looking at phenomena, so that you can discover how your previous views might be impacting on their ability to develop new knowledge. You will need to become astute observers within your practice and make connections about what you already know and what you are learning.

This reflection is a facilitation of nursing enquiry and will help you to ask questions, put information together and make new discoveries or to come up with new solutions to old problems. Regular reflection on your nursing practice increases your ability to be active and enthusiastic about developing and maintaining quality care in the health care setting.

Your journal entries should not just be lists of what you did each shift but how you felt, what you learned and how you could improve in your practice. The journal should not be used to make derogatory comments or reference to colleagues or the subject.

Download this document, complete all journal entries and then upload these journals onto moodle.

Principles of Assessment and Outcome Measurement for Occupational Therapists and Physiotherapists Alison Laver Fawcett, 2013-03-15 This textbook on assessment and outcome measurement is written for both occupational therapy and physiotherapy students and qualified therapists. It begins by defining what is meant by assessment, outcome evaluation and measurement and discussing the complexity of therapy assessment and measurement including the challenge of measuring human behaviour and the impact of factors such as task demand and context including the environment. Methods of data collection e.g. observation, interview, standardised testing and sources e.g. self-report, proxy for collecting information about clients are then reviewed and the main purposes of assessment e.g. descriptive, evaluative, predictive, discriminative presented. The book then addresses the topics of standardisation, levels of measurement, reliability, validity and clinical utility. There is a chapter describing and applying models for categorizing levels of function to aid assessment and measurement. The concept of clinical reasoning and reflective practice is then explored. Application of principles is supported through detailed case studies and worksheets and the criteria for test critique and guidelines for choosing a particular assessment approach are discussed.

The Student's Guide to Reflective Writing Martin McMorrow, 2024-03-21 From your studies to your career, reflection and reflective writing is a key skill for personal and professional development. However, reflective writing requires a different approach to essays or reports; it can be difficult to know how to accomplish it. Written in a supportive and inclusive tone, The Student's Guide to Reflective Writing is an ideal resource for anyone faced with reflective writing assignments. It provides clear and practical advice on every step of the process, showing you how to record your experiences, choose what to write about, structure your assignment, write reflectively using appropriate tone and language, and incorporate theory and refer to professional skills and competencies. Throughout the book, there are a wealth of practice tasks and detailed examples of reflective writing from a range of disciplines. It also contains a glossary of sentence structures to help you get started and build your confidence. This hands-on and supportive guide equips you with the skills to write critically reflectively and successfully.
