

Office 365 Administration Guide Enterprise

In previous editions we discussed how to move your functions to Office 365. We agree that all your settings should be kept different regardless of Office 365 type (Enterprise, Midsize and Professional) and pointed out that (as should be) settings for Enterprise have a fallback. The only reason why we allow the enterprise version is a single user can have the flexibility of Enterprise and your email can be either connected with the other plans options.

This chapter focuses on the administration of the Enterprise subscriptions for Office 365. User licenses and your administrators are not looking at the complete set of enterprise tasks. They change settings for a company and the administrators are asked to perform. These tasks help them managing users in adding, removing or moving them between licenses changing the subscription type (see table 8.1).
