research is to examine the entrepreneurial ethics among small scale entrepreneurs. The study has been commenced with three objectives such as measuring demographic background, entrepreneurial ethics in functional areas, and developing entrepreneurial ethics. The study has been started with 100 small scale entrepreneurs and it is randomly selected. The required primary data was obtained by using a structured questionnaire design. The total number of questionnaires distributed was 286 out of which 260 were returned. Descriptive research design was used for formulating the research study. The statistical tools used include simple percentage analysis, Kendall's Coefficient of Concordance with the necessary hypothesis, and T test. The results showed that integrity is the most important factor while maintaining ethics among small scale entrepreneurs. It is followed by public spiritedness, accountability, transparency, honesty, and fairness in the different functional areas. Kendall's coefficient of concordance rejects the null hypothesis and it stated that there is a significant difference in ranking by the entrepreneurs as to different functional areas. Developing entrepreneurial ethics is mainly dependent on straight forward mentality, responsiveness, support to all stakeholders, customer relationship, and moral values. It can be concluded that entrepreneurial ethics is required so as to make a better external ethical image and to have a functional and credible business environment.
