European Seaports Law E. van Hooydonk,2003 In 2001 the European Commission published its so called Ports Package a first attempt at developing a European policy for seaports The Ports Package includes a Directive on Market Access to Port Services which will influence the port industry thoroughly and lead to fundamental changes in daily port operations In this volume academics as well as practising lawyers from France Ireland Italy and Belgium describe the legal framework for the several branches of the port sector recalling the far reaching practical implications of existing general EU law and discussing the latest versions of the Port Services Directive proposal Completed by authoritative views from the head of the Commission s ports unit a specialist MEP and representatives from both the public and the private port sector this book offers a fairly complete overview of existing port law as well as the main points of concern in the policy debate Its purpose is to serve both as a policy background document and as a working tool for public and private port players as well as for academics and lawyers

Sustainability in the Maritime Domain Angela Carpenter,Tafsir M. Johansson,Jon A. Skinner,2021-05-29 This volume explores options for a sustainable maritime domain including maritime transportation such as Maritime Spatial Planning MSP maritime education and training maritime traffic and advisory systems maritime security Other activities in the maritime domain covered in the book include small scale fisheries and sustainable fisheries and greening the blue economy The book aims to provide the building blocks needed for a framework for good ocean governance a framework that will serve through the next decade and and hopefully well beyond the 2030 milestone of the UN Agenda for Sustainable Development In short this book brings together the problems of the current world and sustainable solutions that are in the development process and will eventually materialize in the not so distant future Additionally the book presents a trans disciplinary analysis of integral sustainable maritime transportation solutions and crucial issues relevant to good ocean governance that have recently been discussed at different national regional and international fora highlighting ongoing work to develop and support governance systems that facilitate industry requirements and meet the needs of coastal states and indigenous peoples of researchers of spatial planners and of other sectors dependent on the oceans The book will be of interest to researchers across many disciplines especially those that are engaged in cross sectoral research and developments in the maritime transport sector and across the wider maritime domain To this end the book covers areas including natural and social sciences geographical studies spatial planning maritime security and gender studies as they relate to transport and the wider maritime sector In addition the book explores frameworks for sustainable ocean governance being developed under the UN s Agenda for Sustainable Development to 2030 It will also look beyond the 2030 milestone under that Agenda and will be of use to national and international policymakers and practitioners government actors at the EU and other regional and national levels and to researchers of ocean governance sustainability and management and maritime transport

Maritime Autonomous Vehicles and International Law

Natalie Klein, Douglas Guilfoyle, Md Saiful Karim, Rob McLaughlin, 2024-12-31 Maritime autonomous vehicles MAVs have the potential to radically alter all uses of maritime space with technology progressing faster than the law This book explores the current international legal framework and the options available to regulate maritime security in the face of emerging technologies MAVs are starting to play a role not only in policing and military security but also for the perpetration of maritime crimes Through discussing the existing international legal framework for combating maritime security threats the book will consider the use of MAVs by states for various security purposes and the potential dangers of MAVs in the hands of non state actors As the intersection of maritime technology with international maritime security law is crucial to a safe future for all this timely book makes essential suggestions to adapt existing legal frameworks to match emerging technologies Addressing critical questions such as who exercises jurisdiction when ships are remotely controlled how jamming technology may be lawfully deployed and what force may be permissible during maritime law enforcement this book identifies a diversity of current legal gaps and problems and makes suggestions as to how to rectify them This book will be of interest to students and scholars in the field of the law of the sea maritime security and emerging technologies
