An Analysis of Jacques Derrida's Structure, Sign, and Play in the Discourse of the Human Sciences Tim Smith-Laing, 2018-05-20 Jacques Derrida's Structure Sign and Play is one of the most controversial and influential philosophical texts of the 20th century. Delivered at a conference on structuralism at Johns Hopkins, the lecture took aim at the critical and philosophical fashions of the time and radically proposing a world in which meaning cannot be pinned down or traced to an origin but instead is continuously shifting, fleeting, and open to play. Hailed by many as a watershed in philosophy and literary theory, Derrida's lecture has shaped both disciplines. At once dense, brilliant, and humorous, it is a crucial read for anyone interested in questioning our natural assumptions about meaning in the world. A Postmodern Reader Joseph Natoli, Linda Hutcheon, 1993-06-29 These readings are organized into four sections. The first explores the wellsprings of the debates in the relationship between the postmodern and the enterprise it both continues and contravenes: modernism. Here philosophers, social and political commentators, as well as cultural and literary analysts present controversial background essays on the complex history of postmodernism. The readings in the second section debate the possibility or desirability of trying to define the postmodern given its cultural agenda of decentering, challenging, even undermining the guiding master narratives of Western culture. The readings in the third section explore postmodernism's complicated complicity with these very narratives, while the fourth section moves from theory to practice in order to investigate in a variety of fields the common denominators of the postmodern condition in action. Twentieth Century Literary Criticism Bijay Kumar Das, 2005 Considering the great popularity of the first four editions of the book Twentieth Century Literary Criticism and keeping in mind the valuable suggestions received from several quarters, the present fifth edition has been revised and enlarged by an addition of twelve new chapters. It contains fifty chapters in all, organized into two parts. Part I of the book lays emphasis on various schools of criticism that are prevalent in India and the West. Each chapter contains an analysis of the theory in question and shows the trend and development as well as the methodology of literary criticism in the 20th century. Recent issues in twentieth-century criticism—postcolonial theory, translation theory, cultural criticism, and gender studies—are among the many attractions of the book. Part II of the book contains discussions on a large number of critical essays and critics such as Eliot, Richards, Leavis, Barthes, Foucault, and the postcolonial critics. The seminal critical essays included in this section have influenced the critical trends in the twentieth century and changed the general perception of criticism. These chapters, apart from giving a comprehensive idea of the critical concepts, also provide an analytic study of the critical works. Important postcolonial critics like Edward Said, Homi K. Bhabha, and Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak have been discussed with new insight. Professor Das has explained the theories and the texts with clarity and precision in a lucid language. This is an invaluable reference book for anyone interested in the field of literary criticism in the twentieth century. Structure, Sign, and

John Cage's residencies at North Carolina's Black Mountain College and the Memphis studio where Sam Phillips and Elvis Presley created a new music for the American teenager. He examines the post-war vogue for French existentialism, structuralism and post-structuralism, the rise of abstract expressionism and pop art, Allen Ginsberg's friendship with Lionel Trilling, James Baldwin's transformation into a Civil Rights spokesman, Susan Sontag's challenges to the New York Intellectuals, the defeat of obscenity laws and the rise of the New Hollywood. Stressing the rich flow of ideas across the Atlantic, he also shows how Europeans played a vital role in promoting and influencing American art and entertainment. By the end of the Vietnam era, the American government had lost the moral prestige it enjoyed at the end of the Second World War, but America's once-despised culture had become respected and adored. With unprecedented verve and range, this book explains how that happened.

Dancing Culture Religion Sam Gill, 2012-08-03. In this provocative study of dancing, Sam Gill examines the interpretive styles of a variety of cultural dance traditions in discourse with the philosophic traditions of Schiller, Merleau-Ponty, Barbara Derrida, Leroi Gourhan and Baudrillard. As a scholar of religion, Gill provides special consideration to the importance of this emerging appreciation of dancing as a perspective inclusive of body and experience. Each chapter delves into the many factions of dancing: moving, gesturing, self-othering, playing, seducing and masking. Gill also draws on the analysis of contemporary dance films and musicals, his experience as a dancer and dance teacher, his extensive research on dance traditions, and his interest in neurobiology and phenomenology to develop the core of this rich exploration of dancing.

Difference at the Origin Paul Manihott, 2008. Heidegger's Way of Thinking Has Left A Rich Legacy For Post-Modern Philosophers, Particularly For Jacques Derrida, Who Has Greatly Influenced Philosophy and Literature. In the modern times, Derrida like his mentor Heidegger understands that in the Western philosophy, the meaning of being has been determined by metaphysics of presence. However, unlike Heidegger, Derrida does not begin his philosophical career with a question on being, nor does he take up philosophical positions traditional or otherwise. The purpose of the present study is the critical evaluation of Derrida's claim that he deconstructed one of Heidegger's most important essays, "The Origin of the Work of Art," by which he tries to overcome the metaphysics of presence. The book presents an in-depth analysis of Heidegger's question of the meaning of being and Derrida's critique of Western logocentrism and his philosophy of deconstruction. It delves into the origin of the truth of the work of art, studying the essence of thing, equipment and work of art as philosophized by Heidegger. It discusses truth as the strife-taking, originary strife as the essence of the meaning of being. It also includes Derrida's criticism of the restitution of the truth of the work of art and an evaluation of the differential structure of the truth of the painting as a work of art. A comparative study of the philosophies of Heidegger and Derrida has been given under non-originary origin of truth and difference. As the origin, references have been given at the end of each chapter to facilitate easy understanding of the concepts discussed in the text. Besides, there is a comprehensive bibliography giving primary as well as secondary

Give the Word: Responses to Werner Hamacher's "95 Theses on Philology" Werner Hamacher, 2019-06-19 Werner Hamacher's witty and elliptical 95 Theses on Philology challenges the humanities and particularly academic philology that assume language to be a given entity rather than an event. In Give the Word eleven scholars of literature and philosophy Susan Bernstein Mich le Cohen Halimi Peter Fenves Sean Gurd Daniel Heller Roazen Jan Plug Gerhard Richter Avital Ronell Thomas Schestag Ann Smock and Vincent van Gerven Oei take up the challenge presented by Hamacher's theses. At the close Hamacher responds to them in a spirited text that elaborates on the context of his 95 Theses and its rich theoretical and philosophical ramifications. The 95 Theses included in this volume makes this collection a rich resource for the study and practice of radical philology. Hamacher's philology interrupts and transforms parting with tradition precisely in order to remain faithful to its radical but increasingly occluded core. The contributors test Hamacher's break with philology in a variety of ways attempting a philological practice that does not take language as an object of knowledge study or even love. Thus in responding to Hamacher's Theses the authors approach language that because it can never be an object of any kind awakens an unfamiliar desire. Taken together these essays problematize philological ontology in a movement toward radical reconceptualizations of labor action and historical time.

The Ethics of Writing Peter Pericles Trifonas, 2000-02-09 This is a treatise on Jacques Derrida's educational texts those writings concerned with the ethics and politics of the historico philosophical structures constituting the scene of teaching. It addresses the importance of deconstruction.

The key ideas of Jacques Derrida in his essays "Structure, Sign and Play in the Discourse of the Human Sciences" and "Différance" Issam El Masmoudi, 2019-12-13 Essay from the year 2019 in the subject Philosophy Philosophy of the 20th century Sultan Moulay Sliman University language English abstract This paper tends to deal mainly with Derrida's both essays of Structure Sign and Play in the Discourse of the Human Sciences and Diff rance. It tries to show some of his key ideas and his outstanding status in the postmodern school of thought in the light of his aforementioned essays. The first things that come to our minds when we hear the name of Jacques Derrida are Deconstruction Diff rance Post structuralism Post modernism Writing and Differance Of Grammatology and so on. This illustrates that we are already familiar with Derrida. However the majority of people complain about Derrida's complexity of his writings as well as the difficulty of translating his works. One of the most illustrative examples is the preface of Gayatri Chakravorti Spivak to Derrida's Of Grammatology in which she states when the preface is being written by someone other than the author the situation is yet further complicated. A pretense at writing before a text that one must have read before the preface can be written. Spivak's statement is a real example of the inseparable relationship between reading and writing. Reading is breathing in whereas writing is breathing out. Alan Bass a translator of Derrida suggests that the difficulty to read Derrida is not a question of his style of writing but rather Derrida challenges the way we are used to read.

Besides Alan Bass compares the translator of Derrida to a psychoanalyst in the sense that the translator must understand the syntax and lexicon of the original text in order to transform it through his own language This is quite analogous with the attempt of the psychoanalyst to translate the language of dreams into a latent language Jahrbuch für Amerikastudien Walther Paul Fischer,1993 Postmodern Philosophy and Law Douglas E. Litowitz,1997 The author presents a two tiered analysis that views postmodern legal thought as both a collective intellectual movement and as the work of particular theorists notably Friedrich Nietzsche Michel Foucault Jacques Derrida Francois Lyotard and Richard Rorty He concludes that even though postmodern thought does not give rise to a normative theory of right that can be used as a framework for deciding cases it can focus attention on genealogy and discourse and can empower those who have been denied a voice in the legal system Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR The Eighteenth Century ,2001 Writing and Reading Differently George Douglas Atkins,Michael L. Johnson,1985 Michigan Law Review ,1996 Tracing Eisenman Stan Allen,2006 Perhaps more than any other architect practicing today Peter Eisenman has made a career out of devising a dialectic of oppositions in architecture With references to societal alienation and existing architectural forms his work derives much from Friedrich Nietzsche Noam Chomsky and Jacques Derrida He led the loosely knit group of architects known as The New York Five which included John Hejduk Michael Graves Charles Gwathmey and Richard Meier who made an effort to introduce a theory and artistry of modernist architecture as rigorous as that of the European avant garde This is the first comprehensive single volume overview ever published on Eisenman s buildings and projects from his first work House I 1960 to his most recent projects currently under construction in Spain and Germany The book includes all the projects Eisenman has created with essays from international architects and critics including Greg Lynn Sanford Kwinter and Stan Allen Eisenman currently teaches at New York s Cooper Union and at Princeton University He has designed a wide range of projects including the Wexner Center at Ohio State University which received a 1993 National Honor Award from the American Institute of Architects and the Holocaust Memorial in Berlin which opened in spring 2005 International Studies in Philosophy ,1974 The Journal of Speculative Philosophy ,1987 Form, Genre, and the Study of Political Discourse Herbert W.
