Journal Entry Ideas For Middle School Students:

Learning Journals in the K-8 Classroom Marcia S. Popp, 2012-11-12 Learning Journals in the K 8 Classroom is the first comprehensive presentation of how to use academic journals effectively for elementary level instruction. The text outlines the theoretical foundations for using learning journals and provides step by step suggestions for implementing them in every content area and at all levels of elementary instruction. Learning journals provide resources and support for reading aloud, independent reading, mini lessons, cooperative study, individual research, workshops, and the portfolio system. The type of interactive writing students do in learning journals helps them explore complex ideas in the content areas using their own strengths of analysis and response. The journals then become resources for future learning group discussions, individual conferences, learning assessment reports, and progress. Four introductory chapters show teachers how to create their own journals, introduce journals to students, integrate them with cooperative study, and use them for assessment. Additional chapters focus on the individual curriculum areas of literature, writing, mathematics, science, and social studies. The text includes sample entries from student journals at all grade levels and in every content area, and appendices of annotated resources to support journaling and interviews with teachers who use journals in their classrooms.

Factors Influencing Middle School Students' Sense-making Discussions in Their Small-group Investigations of Force and Motion Cody Sandifer, 2001. In this study I adopted a combined individual and sociocultural perspective on learning in order to investigate small group discussions in an inquiry based middle school science classroom. The specific purpose of the study was to answer the following research questions: a) How can we classify students' sense making statements? b) To what extent do students engage in sense making discussion (SMD)? and c) Which factors provide support for students' SMD? To answer these questions, two groups were videotaped during the Interactions and Motion unit from the Constructing Ideas in Physical Science middle school curriculum. To classify students' sense making statements, I developed a six component framework for sense making discussion. My six components of sense making discussion are: predicting a phenomenon or experimental outcome, clarifying the facts of a phenomenon or experimental result, describing and explaining a phenomenon or experimental result, defining, describing, clarifying, and connecting scientific concepts, procedures, processes, and representations, testing knowledge, compatibility, and making a request for any of the above. The extent of students' sense making discussions was established by documenting instances of student sense making according to the six component scheme, and then forming distributions of sense making instances. a) calculating the percentage of time that groups dedicated to sense making discussion. To determine the influence that various factors have on students' sense making discussions, I first drew on the research in collaboration, discourse, and nonverbal sense making to arrive at an initial list of personal, group, task, and contextual factors that would likely influence the SMD. In this study, I then picked out significant quantitative differences in sense making between groups, students, and different portions of the curriculum (cycles, sub sections, etc.) and determined to what extent the initial list of factors contributed to the significant differences in SMD and also to what extent any additional factors contributed to these differences My analysis showed that many of the factors from the initial list helped to explain the differences in sense making I also identified six other factors that contributed to these differences capacity for intra group guidance intellectual capacity time available for sense making external guidance awareness of the curriculum structure and an awareness and valuing of the curriculum goals Current Index to Journals in Education ,1998 Resources in education ,1991 Proceedings of the High School Conference of ... ,1919 Library Journal ,1917 The Open Shelf ,1923 Sierra Educational News and Book Review ,1912 Current Problems Number 1-13. ... University of Minnesota,1918 The American School ,1917 Teaching Social and Emotional Learning in Physical Education Paul M Wright, Kevin Andrew Richards,2021-06-29 Teaching Social and Emotional Learning in Physical Education is the ideal resource for understanding and integrating social and emotional learning SEL competencies into the structure of a physical education program alongside physical activity and skill development goals This text should be incorporated as a key resource to guide physical education teacher education courses specifically focused on social and emotional learning while also providing supplemental readings for courses related to physical education curriculum instruction assessment and or models based practice Similarly practicing physical education teachers who are interested in developing a stronger focus on SEL in their teaching will find that the book provides a comprehensive resource to guide their professional learning and practice The Journal of Education ,1908 New York School Journal ,1895 Atlantic Educational Journal ,1911 Child Welfare ,1928 Teaching Reading Pamela J. Farris, Carol J. Fuhler, Maria P. Walther,2004 A Balanced Approach to Literacy Instruction provides students with a strong background in using a balanced approach to literacy instruction Using the National Standards for English Language Arts as a guide the book calls for classroom teachers to become knowledgeable of and to master several literacy instructional practices applying each when appropriate A wide variety of literacy instructional practices are clearly presented Theories are accompanied by practical research based ideas that students can use as they complete their field based experiences and go out into their own classrooms In addition to its in depth coverage of phonics comprehension assessment and vocabulary instructional strategies A Balanced Approach to Literacy Instruction has wide coverage of technology and writing Ways to meet the needs of diverse student populations are discussed throughout the book Students also are provided with thorough lesson plans in reading writing and technology for them to consider using or adapting for their field based experiences The Chemical News and Journal of Physical Science ,1904 Chemical News and Journal of Industrial Science ,1907 Bulletin Charles Watters Odell, University of Illinois (Urbana-Champaign campus).
