J Wolfe Sensation And Perception 3rd Edition:

Sensation & Perception Jeremy M. Wolfe, Keith R. Kluender, Dennis M. Levi, Rachel Herz, Linda M. Bartoshuk, Roberta L. Klatzky, Daniel M. Merfeld, 2020 Sensation Perception Sixth Edition introduces students to their own senses emphasizing human sensory and perceptual experience and the basic neuroscientific underpinnings of that experience The authors specialists in their respective domains strive to spread their enthusiasm for fundamental questions about the human senses and the impact that answers to those questions can have on medical and societal issues This edition of Sensation and Perception offers an enhanced e book that includes learning objectives self assessment and a robust hands on media package that is designed to engage students through demonstrations simulations and activities Human Factors in Simple and Complex Systems Robert W. Proctor, Trisha Van Zandt, 2018-01-02 Recently there have been a number of advances in technology including in mobile devices globalization of companies display technologies and healthcare all of which require significant input and evaluation from human factors specialists Accordingly this textbook has been completely updated with some chapters folded into other chapters and new chapters added where needed The text continues to fill the need for a textbook that bridges the gap between the conceptual and empirical foundations of the field Cognition Thomas A. Farmer, Margaret W. Matlin, 2019 Margaret Matlin and new co author Thomas Farmer s book demonstrates how cognitive processes are relevant to everyday real world experiences and frequently examines how cognition can be applied to other disciplines such as clinical psychology social psychology consumer psychology education communication business medicine and law Integrated Models of Cognitive Systems Wayne D. Gray, 2007-04-19 The field of cognitive modeling has progressed beyond modeling cognition in the context of simple laboratory tasks and begun to attack the problem of modeling it in more complex realistic environments such as those studied by researchers in the field of human factors The problems that the cognitive modeling community is tackling focus on modeling certain problems of communication and control that arise when integrating with the external environment factors such as implicit and explicit knowledge emotion cognition and the cognitive system These problems must be solved in order to produce integrated cognitive models of moderately complex tasks Architectures of cognition in these tasks focus on the control of a central system which includes control of the central processor itself initiation of functional processes such as visual search and memory retrieval and harvesting the results of these functional processes Because the control of the central system is conceptually different from the internal control required by individual functional processes a complete architecture of cognition must incorporate two types of theories of control Type 1 theories of the structure functionality and operation of the controller and type 2 theories of the internal control of functional processes including how and what they communicate to the controller This book presents the current state of the art for both types of theories as well as contrasts among current approaches to human performance models It will be an important resource for professional and student researchers in cognitive science cognitive engineering and human
