King Kong Daily Script:

The Turn to Gruesomeness in American Horror Films, 1931-1936 Jon Towlson, 2016-09-27 Critics have traditionally characterized classic horror by its use of shadow and suggestion. Yet the graphic nature of early 1930s films only came to light in the home video DVD era. Along with gangster movies and sex pictures, horror films drew audiences during the Great Depression with sensational content. Exploiting a loophole in the Hays Code which made no provision for on-screen gruesomeness, studios produced remarkably explicit films that were recut when the Code was more rigidly enforced from 1934. This led to a modern misperception that classic horror was intended to be safe and reassuring to audiences. The author examines the 1931 to 1936 happy ending horror in relation to industry practices and censorship. Early works like Murders in the Rue Morgue (1932) and The Raven (1935) may be more akin to The Texas Chain Saw Massacre (1974) and Hostel (2005) than many critics believe.

Through lively, spirited, and thoughtful essays that examine each work's significance, impact, and influence, Thrillers 100 Must Reads provides both historical and personal perspective on those spellbinding works that have kept readers on the edge of their seats for centuries.

Dinosaurs in Fantastic Fiction Allen A. Debus, 2006 This literary survey examines how paleoliterature originated, developed, and matured from its inception to the present day. It follows trends on the crafting of classic dinosaurs, investigating the figurative and metaphoric meaning of fictional dinosaurs and related prehistoria. An appendix provides brief summaries of deserving dinosaur texts organized alphabetically by author. Provided by publisher.

Make Believe in Film and Fiction K. Kroeber, 2006-05-12 This study provides the first detailed contrast between the experiences of reading a novel and watching a movie. Kroeber shows how fiction evokes morally inflected imagining and how movies reveal through magnification of human movements and expression subjective effects of complex social changes.

How the World Remade Hollywood Ed Glaser, 2022-03-07 For decades filmmakers worldwide have been remaking Hollywood movies in colorful ways. They've chronicled a singing and dancing Hannibal Lecter in India, star-crossed lovers aboard the doomed Nigerian ship Titanic, a Japanese expedition to the planet of the apes, and an uncivil war in Turkey between Captain America and a mobbed-up Spider-Man. Most of these films were low budget and many were unauthorized, but all of them were fantastic and lately have begun to resurface thanks to cherry picked YouTube clips But why and how were they made in the first place This book tells the little known stories of the wily filmmakers who made an Italian 007 flick by casting Sean Connery's tradesman brother produced a Turkish space opera by stealing a print of Star Wars for its effects footage and transported a full fledged Terminator to the present day not from a post apocalyptic future but from the vibrant mythology of Indonesia Their stories reveal more than mere imitations they demonstrate the fascinating ways ideas evolve as they cross borders The Encyclopedia of Fantasy John Clute, John Grant, 1999-03-15 Like its companion volume The Encyclopedia of Science Fiction this massive reference of 4 000 entries covers all aspects of fantasy from literature to art International Film Guide ,1976 Fear, Cultural Anxiety, and Transformation

Scott A. Lukas, John Marmysz, 2010-01-01 The contributors to this volume explore the themes of fear cultural anxiety and transformation as expressed in remade horror science fiction and fantasy films While opening on a note that emphasizes the compulsion of filmmakers to revisit issues concerning fear and anxiety this collection ends with a suggestion that repeated confrontation with these issues allows the opportunity for creative and positive transformation

John Carradine Tom Weaver, Gregory W. Mank, 1999 Over more than six decades and 200 films supreme movie villain John Carradine defined the job of the character actor running the gamut from preacher Casey of The Grapes of Wrath to his classic Count Dracula of House of Frankenstein and House of Dracula But for every Prisoner of Shark Island or Jesse James Carradine who also did great work on Broadway and the classical theater he produced directed and starred in Hamlet hammed it up in scores of B and C horror and exploitation films developing the while quite a reputation for scandal Through it all though he remained a survivor and a true professional This is the first ever work devoted exclusively to the films of John Carradine In addition to the comprehensive filmography there is a biography of Carradine contributed by Gregory Mank commentary on the man by indie film director Fred Olen Ray who helmed many latter day Carradine movies and an interesting piece by director Joe Dante who writes about Carradine's involvement in Dante's 1981 werewolf movie The Howling Media Review Digest C.
