Data Visualization in Society Martin Engbretsen, Helen Kennedy, 2025-10-01 Today we are witnessing an increased use of data visualization in society. Across domains such as work, education, and the news, various forms of graphs, charts, and maps are used to explain, convince, and tell stories. In an era in which more and more data are produced and circulated digitally, and digital tools make visualization production increasingly accessible, it is important to study the conditions under which such visual texts are generated, disseminated, and thought to be of societal benefit. This book is a contribution to the multi-disciplined and multi-faceted conversation concerning the forms, uses, and roles of data visualization in society. Do data visualizations do good or bad? Do they promote understanding and engagement, or do they do ideological work, privileging certain views of the world over others? The contributions in the book engage with these core questions from a range of disciplinary perspectives.

Image Studies Sunil Manghani, 2013 Image Studies provides an engaging introduction to visual studies analysis and an account of existing and emergent visual culture debates, along with chapters on a range of topics including consumer culture and identity, photography and digital imaging, painting and drawing, the moving image, the relationship between image and text, including reference to text in art, comics, and animation, and scientific imaging. Written in an engaging and accessible way, the text will also include extracts of existing critical materials. Each chapter will include key set readings, including short extracts from existing literatures, with accompanying study notes and questions. The chapters will also include a range of critical and creative tasks designed to bring the academic study of visual culture into direct contact with practical aspects of visual culture and image making. Image Studies is a new text aimed predominantly at undergraduate students in visual culture, but which will also be useful for media studies students and arts students more generally.
